20 DIE IN SCHOOL FIRE

FLAMES SNUFF OUT LIVES OF CHILDREN

Fire Sweeps Parochial School at Peabody, Mass., and Wild Panic of 700 Pupils Ensues --Score of Young Folk Burned or Crushed to Death in Five Brief Minutes--Fear Other Bodies May Yet Be Discovered in Ruins—Heart-rending Scenes Attend Catastrophe.

Peabody, Mass., Oct. 28.—Twenty pupils of the St. John's parochial school lost their lives in a fire that, starting in the basement a few minutes after the morning session had opened today, swept through the three stories of the brick and wooden school building in less than five minutes.

Nineteen of the boys and girls, none of whom were out of their teens, were burned or crushed to death while attempting to escape. A score of others were injured, some dangerously. Of the latter one, Mildred Mead, aged 16, died after having been removed to a hospital.

The bodies of the dead were frightfully burned and of the nineteen at the morgue only two, Elizabeth Nolan, aged 17, and Mary Sullivan, 16, both members of the senior class, had been identified this afternoon. Other bodies were believed to be in the ruins and it was thought that twenty-five had been killed or fatally injured.

There were 700 children in the building when the fire started. Its origin is in doubt. Angus McDonald, of the state police, thinks it originated in a closet near the stairway and was caused by a hot air explosion.

Mother Superior Sounds Alarm.

Mother Superior Aldgeon, who was in charge of the pupils, heard an explosion and detecting smoke sounded the alarm. There were no fire escapes on the building, but wide stairways at either end of the interior led down to the front exit. Under fire drill discipline the little ones were marched through constantly thickening clouds of smoke to the ground floor, when the leaders lost their heads.

Instead of passing out the rear exit, according to a rule, they made a dash for the front door and became jammed in the vestibule. Meantime the fire had eaten its way upward from directly under the front entrance and the vestibule crowded with pupils, presently was enveloped in flames.

Many reached the open and others were dropped from second and third-story windows or dragged out of the windows on the ground floor.

Goes Back After Brothers.

Catherine M. O'Connell, 13, was among the first to escape, but when she got outside and found that her two little brothers were missing she broke away from the crowd and ran back into the building. The brothers were afterward reported safe, but no trace of Catherine could be found after the fire had burned itself out.

Genevieve Phillips, one of those who escaped, said: "There was no confusion and everything went smoothly until we came to a point half way down the stairs between the first and second floors. Looking down over the heads of the children ahead we saw a terrible scene. The younger children from the first floor were piled up in front of the doorway. The sisters were doing their best to get the children through the doors.

Little Ones Terror-Stricken.

"Many of the little ones were terror-stricken and crying at the top of their lungs. Some had fainted and were be-

CARRIES AMERICAN NOTE TO ENGLAND

Washington, Oct. 28.—The American note to Great Britain protesting against British interference with neutral commerce is on its way to London by special messenger. It is being carried by Alexander W. Kirk, third secretary of the American embassy at Berlin who is returning to his post. He will deliver the communication to Ambassador Page next Monday for presentation to the British foreign office.

The note, which is a lengthy document, is in answer to the several notes received from Great Britain in the last few months on the subject of interference with American trade. It covers all phases of the matter before and after the order in council, or so-called blockade, was put into effect.

The delay in the dispatch of the note had been due to President Wilson's desire not to complicate the situation with the controversy with Germany over her submarine warfare.

WHOLESALE GROCERS IN SOCIAL SESSION

Thirty-five wholesale grocers from southern Michigan, northern Ohio and Indiana held a get-together meeting Thursday at the Commercial club. A banquet was served at the noon hour after which matters pertaining to the wholesale grocery business were discussed by the various representatives in attendance. Short addresses were delivered by B. F. Persons, of Evansville, president of the Indiana Wholesale Grocers' association, and P. H. Hill, of Greenville, Ohio, president of the Ohio Wholesale Grocers' association.

RAILROAD MUST SELL ITS COAL INTERESTS

Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 28.—The United States district court today decreed that the ownership of the Lehigh and Wilkesbarre Coal company and the Central Railroad company, of New Jersey, is combination in restraint of trade and that the Central company must dispose of its interest in that concern. The decree filed today is on the decision of the court last June in the government anti-trust suit against the Reading company, Jersey Central and others. The court at that time suggested that the Lehigh and Wilkesbarre company be divorced from the Jersey Central..

MYSTIFIED BY GERARD VISIT

Washington Does Not Understand His Confab With German Emperor.

MAY HAVE SECURED BERLIN PEACE VIEW

In Any Event, It Has Given Rise to Great Deal of Speculation.

Washington, Oct. 28.—Ambassador Gerard's recent conference with Emperor Williaam is causing much speculation in official quarters here. Secretary Lansing stated that the ambassador had not been directed to visit the emperor and that no report of the conference had been received.

It is generally presumed that on the return of the emperor to Potsdam the ambassador made an informal visit in the interest of German-American relations. The satisfactory settlement of the Arabic case gives ground for the belief that the ambassador might have sought the emperor's view on several diplomatic questions which have been held in abeyace owing to the submarine controversy.

Germany's View on Peace?

The possibility that Emperor William might have taken advantage of the opportunity to express to Ambassador Gerard Germany's views on peace was generally talked of here today, particularly as a consequence of the reports that Germany intended soon to make known the basis on which she would make peace.

Reports that Prince von Buelow, former German chancellor and ambassador to Italy, was to visit King Alfonso of Spain and later the United States have attracted much attention here because of the belief that he might be entrusted with the task of expressing Germany's viewpoint.

President Wilson has made it clear that until one of the belligerents indicated plainly a desire to accept mediation there would be no initiative on the part of the American government. The fact that King Alfonso of Spain is mentioned as a mediator is regarded here as significant because for some time it has been indicated that the king of Spain was desirous of acting in harmony with President Wilson when the time for making peace arrives.

PICTURE SHOW MEN BROUGHT TO COURT

Four Are Charged With Violations of the Child Labor Laws.

On affidavits filed by Nelson A. Kyser, a state factory inspector, four proprietors of moving picture theaters were brought into the city court Thursday morning on charges of violating the child labor laws of Indiana by having in their employ boys under 16 years of age. The cases were as follows:

J. P. Mallet, Grand theater, for employing Clarence Gutermuth, aged 14 years.

That the defendants all expect to make defense against the charges was indicated by pleas of not guilty. All say they supposed the lads employed by them were of legal age to be so employed. Because Inspector Kyser was obliged to leave the city Thursday morning and was not able to bring all of his witnesses into court, a continuance was taken until next Thursday and the defendants were allowed to go on their own recognizance.

Inspector Kyser, who has prosecuted violations of the child labor laws in Fort Wayne on other occasions, had been in the city for several days investigating conditions.

The members of the B'Nai Jacob congregation, Monroe and Wayne streets, extended a call to Rabbi E. The B'Nai Jacob congregation of this city has been without a leader for some length of time, and the members are overjoyed to know that they now have a rabbi who promises to be the man for the place.

ONE GARIBALDI IS WOUNDED IN BATTLE

Milan, Oct. 28.—Ezee Garibaldi, one of the five sons of Gen. Riccioti Garibaldi and a grandson of Garibaldi, the Italian liberator, has been seriously wounded, the Ecolo states, in battle near Coularca.

A bullet entered his chest and perforated a lung. His father and mother have gone to Venice to be with him at the hospital where he was taken.

Two of the five sons of Gen. Riccioti Garibaldi have been killed in the war. With their brothers they enlisted in the famous Alpine brigade once commanded by their grandfather which went to the French front last year. They met death in eastern France. When Italy entered the war the French government released the Alpine brigade which returned to join the Italian army. On Aug. 26 Ezce was wounded in the face while fighting the Austrians.

In addition to the operators' school a meeting of the association was held Thursday afternoon, at which time John A. Harrison, telephone engineer of the Lima Telephone company, of Lima, Ohio, discussed matters pertaining to the operation of telephone plants in the most efficient and at the same time the most economical manner.

ONE SECTION IS HELD BAD

Fee Provision in State-Wide Primary Law is Overturned.

OTHER PROVISIONS NOT INVALIDATED

Judge Paris Makes Ruling in Test Suit in New Albany Court.

New Albany, Ind., Oct. 28.—With one exception of one section, No. 13, of the new primary law, in regard to the payment of fees by candidates for office, the constitutionality of the law, passed by the last general assembly, was upheld in an opinion delivered by Judge J. M. Paris, in the Floyd circuit court. The suit to test the law was filed by Charles D. Kelso, an attorney of this city, the defendants being Homer L. Cook, secretary of state; A. V. Johnson, clerk of Floyd county, and Julian T. Miller, county auditor.

Mr. Kelso sought an injunction to restrain the defendants from carrying out the provisions of the law. In the argument before Judge Paris last week the state was represented by Evan B. Stotsenburg, of this city; Abram Simmons, of Bluffton, and Leslie B. Naftzger, assistant in the office of R. M. Milburn, attorney general. Mr. Kelso was assisted by Addison C. Harris, of Indianapolis. The opinion of Judge Paris covered twenty-four type written pages.

Fee Section Held Bad.

The court held the section in regard to the payment of fees unconstitutional because he said it is "unreasonable, unequal and not uniform." The court quoted from decisions to show that there can be no discrimination between candidates based on the ground that one has money to pay the privilege of being a candidate and chooses to pay and another has not the means or is unwilling to pay the privilege. The court cites a number of cases in other states in which the assessment of fees has been held to be legal, but he adds that in most of these cases it will be found that the fee charged was uniform and without reference to salary.

Does Not Affect Remainder.

In deciding that the invalidity of the fee section of the law does not invalidate the entire law, the court quotes a decision to show it is well settled that when a part of a statute is unconstitutional, if by striking from the act all parts which is void, that which is left is complete in itself, sensible, capable of being executed and wholly independent of the other which is rejected, the courts will reject that which is unconstitutional and enforce the remainder.

The court points out that ample provision is made for the payment of all expenses incident to the holding of such primary, although the provisions as to fees are held invalid.

Two Other Sections.

Two other sections of the primary law came up for special consideration in the case before Judge Paris—the section providing qualifications for persons offering to vote at the primary and the section providing for first and second choice voting. In holding that both of these sections of the law are valid the court quoted decistons to show that a primary is not an election, such as is contemplated by the constitution but is a party nominating device.

The court holds that under the broad power given to the general assembly of Indiana by the constitution the general assembly has full and ample power to enact a party primary law of the character of the one at issue.

VARNA TARGET OF RUSS GUNS

NISH NOW NEARLY ENCIRCLED BY FOES

Teutonic Invaders Making Still Further Progress in Serbia.

Today's War News Given in Summary

The Viviani ministry in France resigned today and former premier, Aristide Briand, has been asked to form a new cabinet. It is understood that M. Viviani will remain in the cabinet as minister of justice.

A Russian fleet anchored off the Bulgarian Black sea coast yesterday and began bombardment of Varna, according to a news agency dispatch from Bucharest. Varna is one of the points at which it has been assumed Russia might attempt to land troops for an invasion of Bulgaria.

Today's official statement from Berlin on the Serbian campaign announces a closing in on Nish by the Bulgarians, who have crossed the Tiok over a large front and captured Zajecar and Kniajevats, northwest of Pirot, which lies about 35 miles east of Nish. Further advances have been scored by the Teutonic forces that have fought their way well into Serbian territory from the northern boundaries, the Berlin war office statement declares.

On the front in Russia, the Germans report the repulse of Russian attacks on positions recently taken by Field Marshal von Hindenburg, in the Dvinsk region, and an advance for Gen. von Linsingen in the southern theater, where Rudka, west of Czartorysk, has been taken.

A marked increase in recruiting in Great Britain attributed largely by British newspapers to King George's appeal and the execution in Belgian of Miss Edith Cavell is reported.

Rome, Oct. 28.—A Bucharest dispatch to the Stefani News agency, filed yesterday, says that the Russians have begun an attack on the Black seat coast of Bulgaria.

"A Russian fleet arrived at 4 o'clock this morning on the Bulgarian coast," the correspondent wires, "and immediately began a bombardment of Varna. Shelling was still proceeding at 11 o'clock. Considerable damage has been done to the town."

Varna is one of the chief Black sea ports of Bulgaria. It has been reported on several occasions since Russia decided to proceed against Bulgaria, that she would attempt to send troops from Odessa to invade Bulgaria. It was assumed that if such an attempt would be made Varna would be selected as the point of attack. It was reported unofficially on October 7 that Varna had been bombarded by Russian cruisers.

PUSHING FURTHER SOUTHWARD.

Teutonic Invasion of Serbia Continues to Make Gains.

Berlin, Oct. 28.—The Austro-German invasion of Serbia has been pushed further to the south. Army headquarters announced today that further ground had been gained, and that the army of Gen. Gallwitz had taken 2,033 prisoners since Oct. 23.

Repulse of Russian attacks in the Dvinsk region and near the central part of the line in the east, as well as a success for Gen. von Linsingen's troops in the southern sector are recorded in today's official statement. Field Marshal von Hindenburg's army has repulsed Russian attacks made against

RECEIVES WORD OF HIS FATHER'S EXILE

Lemuel Papazian, 613 Washington boulevard, east, is in receipt of a letter from Solphia S. Holt, who has recently returned from Turkey, where she served as a missionary, telling him that his father, Simon Papazian, has been exiled by the Turks, together with hundreds of other Armenians. She writes that the Armenians were terribly beaten and tortured. Special favor, however, she says, was shown to Protestants, as they were the last to be sent.

"Your father came to me and begged me to loan him some money," she writes. "He said you would pay me back. Will you therefore kindly send me $4.40." Papazian has not heard from his father in many months.

Simple Life Urged by Girls Making Canvass

Mary and Martha Adams are making a house to house canvass in Fort Wayne expounding a religion of simplicity. They arrived in the city Wednesday, coming from Decatur over the Fort Wayne & Springfield traction line.

On the car they attracted no little attention, greeting every passenger with a sincere God bless you. Their coats were black, cut on loose lines, and their simplicity unmarred by any ornamentation. A bonnet completed the costume.

The sect they represent was founded by a young woman in Chicago, being a combination of new thought and the simpler life. Its exponents work part of the time at ordinary work, then teach from house to house, finding their earnings are sufficient to keep them the whole year, because they do without so many things.

The two women enjoyed breakfast Wednesday morning right on the car, which always consists of raisins and peanuts. Of the former they allow themselves a half pound a day, besides several apples, bread and butter, and whole wheat cooked, after it has been washed and soaked, preferably for the noon meal. When they are traveling the wheat is eaten uncooked.

Followers of the new religion are required to sleep in the open air, either on sleeping porches or beneath the broad roof of heaven. No pay is accepted for anything except in cases where it can be afforded for the actual cost of medicines. Worldly pleasures except that of outdoor recreation are forbidden.

RABBI WHO HAS COME TO TAKE CHARGE OF B'NAI JACOB CONGREGATION.

RABBI E. SPIVACK.

To hold otherwise, he says, would be to conclude that there is some reserve power in the people which would prevent such enactment by the legislature. No such reservation, the court says, can be found in the constitution.

As to "All Elections."

In the opinion of the court the phrase, "all elections" as used in the constitution means only elections at which electors of the state or subdivisions are entitled to vote. The court quotes many decisions to show that such primaries are not in reality elections but mere nominating devices, and that they are valuable auxiliaries to good government and are regulated by legislative enactment for the public welfare. Judge Paris points out that the plaintiff in argument, conceded it would be lawful to provide that an elector should be required to state his politics and to promise to vote his party ticket at the coming election. The court doubts whether this provision alone would prevent persons not entitled to vote from voting in a primary.

"The venal voter," he says, "the one for whom such provisions are made, would not hesitate to state that he was affiliated with the party whose ticket he should be proposing to vote."

First and Second Choice.

Many cases, the court says, have been cited supporting the right of the legislature to safeguard voting at the primary elections by requiring additional qualifications and one has been cited to the contrary. After quoting from various decisions, the court in discussing the first and second choice voting provisions of the primary law says:

"In the absence of any provision in the state constitution to the contrary the court is of the opinion that such a method of nomination is permissible and such seems to be the holding in other courts where the question has been raised as appears from the last citation. Indeed, in Indiana the legislature has provided a method of nomination other than by the votes of qualified electors."

ing dragged along in the crush. Some of the children, most of them under seven years, were struggling to keep their feet. The sisters were working frantically to rescue those who had fallen, but the task was almost a hopeless one.

"A small cloud of smoke was drifting through the doorway over the heads of the struggling, hysterical little children and it seemed that the smoke was coming from the basement doorway. Many of us were able to go around the side of the throng at the doorway and into the schoolroom at the side of the floor hallway. From the windows of this schoolroom we jumped to the ground."

The students, who ranged in years from seven to thirteen, were in charge of sixteen sisters. When the fire broke out the sisters marshalled their charges as for a fire drill and started them from the building. The processions were orderly until those from the third floor joined others pouring from the classrooms on the second floor.

Wild Panic Ensues.

Suddenly there was a cry of fear from one of the throng. It was taken up by a hundred others and panic ensued. The sisters made frantic efforts to stop the pushing, struggling mass, but to no purpose.

The smaller children fell under the feet of those behind them and soon the vestibule was so jammed with living and dead that the firemen could not force an entrance. The sixteen sisters escaped.

Due to Explosion.

The flames, it is supposed, started in the basement and according to some were caused by the explosion of a steam boiler from which the building was heated. There is doubt, however, as to the exact origin of the fire.

A large percentage of the pupils were children of foreign parentage. In the number were many of Irish and Italian descent. The firemen fought the fire from ladders raised to the windows while the police cleared the vestibule.

Burned Beyond Recognition.

The bodies of the dead generally were burned beyond recognition. Mary Leeds and Marion Hayes were found in the crush badly burned but alive and were removed to a hospital.

St. John's parochial school stands on Chestnut street, near St. John's Catholic church and the home of Rev. Nicholas Murphy, the pastor. Opposite is St. John's convent.

The first alarm brought a hundred distracted mothers to the school yard, where soon they were joined by other relatives of the pupils until the building was surrounded by a great crowd of hysterical men and women who rushed the police lines in a wild effort to reach their children.

Police Were Powerless.

The police were powerless to stop the rush, but what they failed to do was accomplished presently by the flames which, shooting from the windows of the building, held back the unhappy throng.

Killed or Injured in Jumping.

The children were driven from their rooms and many sought to escape by the windows and were killed or injured in jumping. Neighbors rushed to the scene and held coats and blankets while the children leaped into them.

The heaviest loss of life was at the front door where the stairway leading to the upper floors became choked with frantic children. Many were trampled under foot and overcome with smoke. Firemen were unable to push their way through the crush and were forced to fight the fire from ladders.

The dead, it was said, might reach fifty. Sisters of the school declared that many of the children on the upper floors had been unable to escape and had undoubtedly lost their lives.

More than 600 pupils under 16 years of age were at their desks when there was an explosion, apparently in the boiler room.

Flames Sweep Rapidly.

The flames swept through the building which was a three story structure, almost before the children could get out of their rooms. The stairways were filled with smoke and flames, and while the sisters tried to send the children out by the usual fire drill, the onrush of the flames caused a panic.

As soon as firemen broke through one of the rear doors they found two bodies, both badly burned. Two more were found just inside the door and two others on the stairway. Fifty feet across the yard was the convent in which 100 nuns resided. The firemen prevented the flames from jumping across the yard.

The St. John's school building was built of brick with a wooden interior. It was heated by steam from a large boiler in the basement. The fire under the boiler had been started up early this morning and it is understood there was a fairly good head of steam on when the session opened. The school was the largest one in the city and ordinarily had an attendance of more than 600 girls and boys.

The school building was erected a few years ago at a cost of about $100,000. It was square shaped with wood fittings lining the interior of the brick frame. There were sixteen class rooms in three floors. At each end of the building wooden stairways led down from the two upper floors. The head of the school is Mother Superior Sister Aldegon, who was assisted by fifteen sisters.

Detected Odor of Smoke.

The mother superior detected the odor of smoke a few minutes after the school children appeared. She immediately sounded an alarm which started the children to the street. According to the version of the sisters, the pupils were marching out in an orderly manner until the leaders who had reached the ground floor made the mistake of rushing into the vestibule at the front exit instead of going out at the rear door as they had been trained to do. This caused confusion among those who followed and congestion in the vestibule.

Flames Reach Stairway.

Meanwhile the flames had reached the stairways and caught the struggling children. Within five minutes flames were shooting from all the windows and exits. The local firemen, unable to control the blaze, summoned aid from Salem, Danvers and Marblehead, but this came too late.

Policemen and firemen bent their energies chiefly to pulling children from doors and windows. The mother superior dropped 25 of her charges from a window on the second floor and they were caught in overcoats and blankets improvised as fire nets.

Two hours after the blaze started twenty bodies had been taken from the ruins and others were being sought.

No Fire Escapes.

There were no fire escapes on the outside of the building.

Deeds of heroism were not wanting. Among such incidents was the act of Maurice Harris, aged 10 years, who carried his one-legged chum, Thomas O'Shea, 8 years old, on his back down the smoke-choked stairways to safety.

At noon only two of the bodies, those of Lizzie Nolan, aged 17 years, and Mary Sullivan, 16, had been identified. Both girls were to have been graduated this year.

The origin of the fire remained in doubht. Michael Dunn, who lives near the school, said he heard a muffled explosion in the school building just before it was enveloped in flames.

Steam Boiler Intact.

When the ruins had cooled sufficiently to permit it, Building Inspector A. H. McDonald and W. S. Murret, of the state police, made their way for a few feet into the basement and later reported that the steam boiler, which was reported to have exploded, was intact.

Joseph Donahue, the engineer of the building, declared the blaze could not have originated from the boiler. He said that he had banked his fire before he left it at 8 o'clock this morning.

CLUB POLLS CLOSE ON A BITTER FIGHT

Indianapolis, Oct. 28.—The most important part of today's program of the convention of the Indiana Federation of Clubs at the Claypool hotel was the election of officers. The bitter fight that has been waged for the last several weeks in the campaign for president of the federation culminated today when the delegates cast their votes for teh two candidates, Mrs. L. J. Cox, of Terre Haute, and Mrs. Clark Fairbank, of Fort Wayne.

The polls were opened at 9 o'clock and will remain open until 3 o'clock. The voting is by the Australian ballot system. Only those delegates that have filed their credentials accrediting them from their clubs to the federation convention are permitted to vote. Strict rules were announced to govern the balloting.

The tellers will count the ballots after the polls have closed this afternoon and the result of the election will be announced at the closing session of the convention tomorrow morning.

Reports of committees were to occupy much of the time today in the convention.

After the nominations had been made yesterday the name of Mrs. Leon Stern, of Terre Haute, nominated for second vice president, was stricken from the ticket. It was found that the bylaws of the organization do not permit two officers from the same district, with the exception of the president and recording secretary. The nominations had been made at the morning session, Mrs. L. J. Cox, of Terre Haute, and Mrs. Clark Fairbank, of Fort Wayne, being the only two women nominated for the presidency, the "dark horse" prophesies failing to materialize.

When the question was raised about two officers being from the same district, Miss Vida Newsom, the president, ruled that the constitution did provide against the two officers involved coming from the same district, and that as Mrs. Cox had been nominated before Mrs. Stern, Mrs. Stern would have to give way in favor of the presidential nominee.

Fairbank Coup is Seen.

It was reported about the convention that the nomination of Mrs. Stern was an attempt by the supporters of Mrs. Fairbank to draw votes away from the Terre Haute candidate for the presidency and thus increase the chances of Mrs. Fairbank.

Another surprise developed when Dr. Amelia R. Keller, of Indianapolis, left her name on the ticket for first vice president to succeed herself. It had been generally understood that Dr. Keller would not again accept the office and when her name was proposed she at first declined, but upon being urged by friends she reconsidered, thus running in opposition to another Indianapolis woman, Mrs. E. C. Rumpler, as well as Mrs. W. W. Reed, of Warsaw.

WHERE FRIEND WIFE DREW BATTLE LINE

Refused to Hold Horse in Yard to Pasture and She Now Sues.

Gertrude Reed stood a variety of abuses from Earl Reed, her husband, once sued him for divorce, but took him back and withdrew her complaint, but when he sought last Tuesday to stand out in the yard and hold his horse, while the animal cropped the grass, she drew the line and it was a battle line. She has again filed suit for divorce and charges that he has cursed her and called her names that are of a sort newspapers that have mailing privileges, dare not print, and falsely accused her of associating with other men. She says he forbid her visiting her own relatives or his own. She filed a suit for divorce last January, but withdrew it and allowed him to return to her, but he was worse than ever, she says. She wants $1,000 alimony. M. H. Bohen appears for the plaintiff.

The superior court has cited John A. Egbert, plaintiff in a suit against Blossom Violet Egbert for divorce, to appear Nov. 1 and show cause why he should not be punished for contempt in failing to obey the court's orders.

In the suit of William O. Jones vs. Hattie V. Jones, brought to this county on cange of venue from Huntington county, the circuit court has decreed a partition of property as prayed for and appointed Charles K. Lucas commissioner to sell it at private sale. Charles F. Kiefer and Ira B. Heaston are apointed appraisers. The court finds the property to be worth $15,000.

Hugh G. Keegan has been appointed by the circuit court to act as receiver for the property of Gus Dodes, sued by the Union Co-Operative Store company, and will take charge of the Crystal restaurant, 117 East Main street, which was closed by the defendant before he left the city.

The suit of Samuel M. Williams vs. Albert N. Brown has been dismissed from the circuit court.

The circuit court has fixed Nov. 29 for the hearing of the suit of the American Steel Dredge company vs. James P. Karr, et al. A few days ago the case had been set for trial Dec. 28.

The suits of Sarah Braithwaite vs. the Berghoff Brewing association for $1,500 damages and of William Braithwaite against the same defendant for $1,047 damages, have been dismissed from the circuit court.

Fred Lambert has brought suit in the superior court against Isaac Clinger and others to quiet title to real estate. William C. Ryan is the plaintiff's attorney.

SAYS STORY IS FALSE.

Sheriff A. C. Gladieux and Dan Current, one of his deputies, emphatically deny the truth of charges made by Thomas Morgan, 1434 Broadway, that the deputy permitted the nine jail prisoners of whom he had charge on the Maysville road, where the prisoners were employed making repairs, to get drunk on hard cider procured from a farm house near by. The deputy says the men had been using a jug to get drinking water in and that when he discovered that some cider had been obtained he put a stop ot it. Frank Duffy and William Kirby, two of the prisoners, sulked when they could get no more cider, says Deputy Current, and refused to work, whereupon they were returned to jail and disciplined.

HEMP CROP IS HARD HIT.

Washington, Oct. 28.—Governor General Harrison, of the Philippines, cabled the insular bureau today that the typhoon which passed over the provinces of Albay, Ambos Camarines, Sorsogen and Tayabas, in southern Luzon, the principal hemp producing district of the islands, on Oct. 23 and 24, caused serious damage to the hemp crop and some loss of life. Full details as to the loss of life and property were lacking, he said, as communication had been interrupted. Press reports said that more than a hundred people lost their lives and many injured.

PRESENTS A MEMORIAL.

Tablet to Organizer of Van Wert's First Sunday School.

Van Wert, Ohio, Oct. 28.—In memory of his grandfather, Jacob Hines, who organized the first Sunday school class in Van Wert, Dr. J. A. Hines, of East Main street, has presented a beautiful bronze tablet to the First M. E. church of this city. The inscription on the tablet is as follows:

In Memory of
Jacob Hines
Who Organized the First
Sunday School Class
In Van Wert, 1840.
Presented to the First
M. E. Church by His
Grandson, Dr. J. A. Hines.

Jacob Hines, who was then a resident of Washington, D. C., came to the city to visit his son, P. J. Hines, father of Dr. J. A. Hines, and while here he organized the first Sunday school class, with the assistance of Abel Strother, who was a former prominent trustee of the First M. E. church in this city. The class was held in the old court house, which stood on the site of the present building. The tablet will be placed in the main auditorium of the church. The location has not yet been decided but a committee of the trustees will be appointed to definitely locate the memorial.

FIND BROTHER AFTER 20 YEARS.

Noble County Women Go to Kokomo to Reunite With Long-Absent Kin.

Avilla, Ind., Oct. 28.—Miss Rhoda Moore, who resides with Mr. and Mrs. Timothy Gaby at Brimfield, and her sister, Miss Isabel Moore, residing with Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Hill, in Jefferson township, went to Kokomo yesterday to meet their brother, Rev. Otto Moore, aged twenty-four years. The three orphan children became separated about twenty years ago, and but for a faint recollection Miss Rhoda had of her brother, and the untiring efforts of her friends, the brother's whereabouts to them, would have remained a mystery. Edwin Smith, of Green township, took an interest in the search for the brother and wrote to Gov. Ralston, who referred him to Frank Fisher, business manager of the orphan's home at Mexico, Indiana. It was found that Otto had been adopted by a family named Morrow. He passed through the grades, graduated from high school and entered DePau university, from which institution he graduated with honors as a minister of the gospel.

TO RECEIVE STATE OFFICIALS.

Huntington, Ind., Oct. 28.—Although Governor Samuel M. Ralston has not yet fixed a particular date in November when he will come to Huntington as a guest of the Huntington Commercial association and to deliever an address, it is understood that tentative plans are fast being developed by the committee of the association. Besides extending the invitation to Governor and Mrs. Samuel M. Ralston, it is the purpose of the committee to also urge the attendance of Clerk of the Supreme Court J. Fred France and Mrs. France, Public Service Commissioner and Mrs. Charles A. Edwards, Superintendent of Public Instruction Charles A. Greathouse and Mrs. Greathouse, as well as other state and federal officials.

TO BE FINISHED BY SPRING.

Van Wert, Ohio, Oct. 28.—Work on the new Y. W. C. A. and hospital buildings is steadily going forward. The four ton girders for the roof of the gymnasium of the Y. W. C. A. were put in place Tuesday. Work on the concrete roof will be commenced the latter part of the week. The steel for the roofing has already arrived. The huge steel girders for the floors and walls of the hospital are being awaited by the contractors. The work on both buildings will be completed by the opening of spring. The excellent weather of the last few weeks has given the contractors an opportunity to push the outside work so that the building may be enclosed before winter.

TRAFFIC MANAGER RESIGNS.

Lagrange, Ind., Oct. 28.—W. H. Ogborn, who has been traffic manager on the Valley Line for the past few months has resigned to accept a similar position on the South Shore line, one of the biggest interurban systems in the country, with headquarters at Michigan City. Mr. Ogborn has just recently moved his family here from Chicago, and they like LaGrange very much, but the offer of the new position carries opportunities which Mr. Ogborn could not afford to reject.

TWO HOOSIER COUPLES ELOPE.

Hillsdale, Mich., Oct. 28.—Rev. Louis DeLarmarter, pastor of the Methodist church here, has just married two eloping couples from Indiana. Carl G. Grill and Miss Cora A. Radabaugh, both of Auburn, were the first pair, and William H. Hower, of Bluffton, and Miss Opal G. Williams, of Randolph county, were the second. Both ceremonies took place at the parsonage.

BURNED BY EXPLODING METAL.

Bluffton, Ind., Oct. 28.—John Falk, a well known resident of West Market street, narrowly escaped painful burns in an explosion of hot babbit metal this morning, during some work on a machine with which he has been experimenting for several years. Mr. Falk was trying this morning to babbit a bearing in the device and used a half of a raw potato to make one end of the mold. When the hot metal struck the potato the water in the tuber evaporated into steam and a small geyser of molten metal was the immediate result. Mr. Falk received the metal on his clothing and beard, but fortunately none of it reached his eyes.

HIT BY STRAY BULLET.

Pierceton, Ind., Oct. 28.—Kenneth Heifrich, of Pierceton, the fourteen year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Heifrich, who have resided in Minnesota for the past two years, was accidentally struck by a stray bullet, the ball passing through the flesh of his leg between the knee and the hip. The wound is not considered dangerous unless blood poisoning should set in, which is not at all probable. There is considerable mystery about the affair. Some of the relatives are inclined to believe that he accidentally shot himself, but he denies that he did and insists that he was riding along the road on his bicycle when the bullet struck him.

SEARCH FOR DESERTER.

Bluffton, Ind., Oct. 28.—Those who have been conducting a search for Joseph F. Babcock, 37, who disappeared Monday morning, taking with him his little daughter, Ethel Violet, aged 2, reported this afternoon that efforts to find him and the little girl still were unavailing, and it was thought today that he probably had departed for his former home at Holland, Mich., or to the home of relatives in Ohio. Marshal Henry Fritz made a trip to the home of Mrs. Evans, a sister of Babcock, living near Monroe, Adams county, and found indisputable evidence that Babcock had been there.

FORTUNE FROM RAISING POTATOES.

Waterloo, Ind., Oct. 28.—William Myers, who lives southeast of Waterloo, is one of the most progressive farmers in the state of Indiana. He came to DeKalb county about seventeen years ago, and without any money made a start in life that has proven what one's true worth will do when applied in the right direction. He bought a farm on time, and paid for it, and since that time he has bought other tracts of land until he is now one of the largest land owners in the county. He has a fine country home, well arranged, fitted with modern convenience such as hot and cold water in the house and electric lights, and his barn is also electrically lighted, all by his own electric light plant. Mr. Myers has done it by raising potatoes, and this year he raised over seven thousand bushels of potatoes.

FIRE LOSS ON FARM.

Stroh, Ind., Oct. 28.—A grain separator belonging to Theodore Clinesmith, of this place, 100 bushels of rye and several rye stacks were destroyed by fire on the farm of Emroy White, residing three miles south of here, near Turkey Creek, entailing a loss estimated at $800. Mr. Clinesmith is the heaviest loser, his separator being valued at $500, with no insurance. The grain and rye stacks, the property of Mr. White, were also a total loss. Sparks from the engine, which set fire to the nearby stacks, was the cause of the conflagration.

NEW HOME FOR CITY CLUB.

Columbia City, Ind., Oct. 28.—The Columbia City Commercial club now has a home of its own. Henceforth the F. L. Myers hall and the rooms over the J. O. Flox store will be the headquarters for committee meetings and general assemblies of the club, and in addition to that, the beautiful room, which has for years been the most inviting and suitable place for parties, dances, corn shows and other exhibits, will be preserved for such purposes in future. A better location would be hard to find.

FINDS STRAY DEER ON FARM.

Kendallville, Ind., Oct. 28.—George W. Rendel, North Main street, emphatically declares he saw a small gray deer on his farm, two and one-half miles northeast of this city, while looking after his farm interests. Mr. Randel claims he was quite close to the animal, and when it saw him, it darted swiftly away. The animal was about three feet high and had probably wandered from the fold and got lost, never to be found by its anxious mother, perhaps many miles away.

LIBERTY CENTER WATER CLEAR.

Bluffton, Ind., Oct. 28.—Dr. A. W. Brown has received a report on the water from the well at the Roberts school in Liberty township showing the water to be fit for use. There are several cases of typhoid fever in the vicinity of the scool and it was thought that possibly the well might be the source of the disease. The school is located two miles west of Liberty Center.

STEEL SEVERS A VEIN.

Montpelier, Ind., Oct. 28.—Fred Zike, chief machinist at the cup and metal works, was painfully injured while at work. A piece of steel struck Mr. Zike on the left arm and severed a vein between the wrist and elbow. The wound bled freely and a large amount of blood was lost before the injured man could reach the doctor's office.

REFUSES TO SIGN IT.

Nebraska Governor Turns Down Suffrage Petition.

Lincoln, Neb., Oct. 28.—Governor John H. Moorehead, it became known today, declined to sign a suffrage petition presented to him yesterday by Miss Sara Bardfield, of Oregon, and her two companions, Miss M. A. Kindberg and Miss Ingebord Kindstedt, who are en route to Washington, D. C., with a petition asking congress to enact a suffrage law. Governor Moorhead said the voters of Nebraska had declared their opinion to woman suffrage and he could not consistently put the state on record in its favor.

Don't Forget!

Coffee contains the drug, caffeine—about 2½ grains to the cup.

Some people use coffee for years and either forget or don't know that caffeine is a cumulative poison, working away in the system, insidiously undermining and destroying health.

Some of the signs are headache, heart flutter, sleeplessness, biliousness, and various stomach, kidney and liver troubles.

But, if one values health and real comfort, and at the same time would enjoy a delicious, wholesome beverage, the thing to do is to quit coffee and use

THE SENTINEL'S DAILY SCRIPTURE READING.

Exodus 26:30-37.

30 And thou shalt rear up the tabernacle according to the fashion thereof which was shewed thee in the mount.

31 And thou shalt make a vail of blue, and purple, and scarlet, and fine twined linen of cunning work: with cherubims shall it be made:

32 And thou shalt hang it upon four pillars of shittim wood overlaid with gold: their hooks shall be of gold, upon the four sockets of silver.

33 And thou shalt hang up the vail under the taches, that thou mayest bring in thither within the vail the ark of the testimony: and the vail shall divide unto you between the holy place and the most holy.

34 And thou shalt put the mercy seat upon the ark of the testimony in the most holy place.

35 And thou shalt set the table without the vail, and the candlestick over against the table on the side of the tabernacle toward the south: and thou shalt put the table on the north side.

36 And thou shalt make an hanging for the door of the tent, of blue, and purple, and scarlet, and fine twined linen, wrought with needlework.

37 And thou shalt make for the hanging five pillars of shittim wood, and overlay them with gold, and their hooks shall be of gold: and thou shalt cast five sockets of brass for them.

Mr. Fairbanks' Chances.

Star-gazers who are surveying the political skies with a view of picking possibilities for the republican presidential nomination next year cannot fail to see significance in the plain fact that Charles Warren Fairbanks, of Indiana, is rapidly taking on the glow of first magnitude as a republican choice. Mr. Fairbanks' friends have not been making so much noise as have the adherents of other possibilities, but that the chance of the Indiana man have improved markedly of late there is no room for doubt.

Mr. Fairbanks has been lately making a campaign tour of Kentucky in the interest of the republican state ticket there, and has incidentally been doing a bit of harvesting on his own political account. It is certain that he will go into the republican convention next year not only as Indiana's "favorite son," but with the additional backing of a solid Kentucky delegation. More than that, his rank as first choice will unquestionably be further augmented from other states, while as a second choice Mr. Fairbanks has today perhaps a greater following than any of the other possibilities which have been considered.

In the extreme west there is said to be much Hughes sentiment. Borah, of course, will have his home state of Idaho behind him, Cummins will have Iowa and possibly Nebraska, Michigan will present William Alden Smith, and Senator Sherman will doubtless get the Illinois backing that a short while ago seemed certainly Mann's. There is said to be some Root sentiment, but little for Whitman, and Burton, of Ohio, is to be reckoned with. None of them today, however, have the pronounced support that can match that of Mr. Fairbanks in promise. He is easily leading the republican presidential field at this moment.

Mayor Bell has made the suggestion to wholesale liquor dealers that they put an end to the existence of some scores of "unprofitable" saloons at Indianapolis by refusing to supply them with stocks of liquor, taking the position that competition is so keen that many saloon men are tempted to violate the law in order to bolster up their receipts. Then the most natural thing in the world happened. A correspondent cards the newspapers to inquire if absolute enforcement of the way by the Indianapolis administration would not answer the same purpose in putting the saloons out of business. History seems to indicate that some administrations at Indianapolis never thought of any such remedy as that.

More than one thousand people turned out Wednesday to witness the annual contests of the Allen County Plowing association, the attendance being double that of any previous event of its kind held in the past twenty-five years. This fact indicates not only a steadily growing popular interest in agriculture, but an increasing appreciation of the fact there is an artistry in the business of farming quite as fine as in the professions with more glamour and possibly less practical utility. It is a hopeful indication when the public demonstrates a real concern in the matters of the farm.

Thomas Jefferson has just been fined $1 and costs in police court at Indianapolis on a plain drunk charge. Happily the circumstances make it improbable that the newspapers will be called upon to explain that this was not the well-known gentleman who some years ago inscribed upon parchment the deathless phrases of the Declaration of Independence. But the Jeffersons appear to be growing shockingly unmindful of the immaculateness of the family name in history.

The first substantial evidence that the late political unpleasantness is really ended has just been supplied from Lebanon, Ind., where the republicans at a recent Ninth district rally displayed portraits of both Roosevelt and Beveridge. It is difficult to question the sincerity of an olive branch like that. For the past few years the mildest manifestation of any old-line republican when he saw the halo-crowned portrait of either of these two eminent gentlemen has been to throw something suspiciously like a fit.

Joy-riders captured by a posse at Gary consisted of a motley assortment of both men and women who were not only armed but had burned one car and stolen another. Still, one naturally expects Gary folk to put some unusual emphasis and a little additional flourish on whatever they set about doing, and the joy-riders may, after all, merely have been demonstrating the Gary idea in a new form.

Count Von Bernstorff has notified the American state department that Robert Fay, alleged lieutenant in the German army now held in New York on charges of conspiracy to blow up chemical plants and munition ships, has no connection with the German secret service or the German government. Now what kind of dope do you suppose Fay has been using to supply the basis for his fanciful statements?

THE JOY OF DOING GOOD.

(Pittsburg Dispatch).

If there is joy in giving for the benefit and happiness of others, as we are told there is, half the joy must come in seeing the benefits realized. Frank H. Buhl of Sharon, surely is experiencing all that joy these days. He has spread his benefactions with lavish hand in the community in which he lives and yet has shown a wisdom not always manifested in such good works by so arranging his beneficences that they shall prove their worth and be enjoyed by all. And he is selfish enough to think he has a right to participate in the enjoyment of seeing the realization of his plans, rather than take with him a hope that his desires will be carried out.

Mr. Buhl already has done much to make life in his home town more worth the living. He has just added to his benefactions by turning over to the people a large farm with buildings for a playground and giving an endowment so generous as to make its proper maintenance assured. Men may seek honors in fields away from home and be happy in the reward that comes to them; others may take satisfaction in the thought that once in a while they go back and give some token of their remembrance; but certainly no happiness can surpass that which comes to him who has taken a leading part in the development of his community, who shares the fortune that is his with those of his neighborhood and who has daily evidenced that the home folks are better for his having lived among them. He has learned not only the happiness of doing good, but the even greater happiness of knowing that his work will not end with him.

A DUTY TO BUILD ATTRACTIVE HOMES.

(Kansas City Star).

"It is the duty of a good citizen," Mr. R. C. Sturgis, president of the American Institute of Architects, said yesterday, "to see that the house he builds is of good material and a pleasure to the community it helps to make."

That is a view that rarely occurs to the average American. He feels that what he does in the way of house building is his own business. If he wants to build an ugly or an inappropriate style of house he thinks nobody has a right to protest.

The movement toward restricted property shows the dawning of a community sense. We are buying lots now under contracts that fix the building line, the minimum cost of the house, the place and style of the garage. That means that we recognize certain obligations to the community.

In time we must go further. We shall recognize the obligation to keep vacant property in such shape that it will not be an eyesore. If we fail in our duty here the time is coming when the city will step in and do the work and assess it against the property. We shall see that it is our duty to the city not only to build attractive houses, but to plant shrubbery and flowers and look after the lawn.

American cities, particularly in the west, are still children of the frontier. People have lived in isolation so long that they haven't yet come to realize the duties to each other involved in community life. What a transformation will come when men and women really appreciate their obligations to the city!

IF KIDNEYS AND BLADDER BOTHER

Kidney and Bladder weakness result from uric acid, says a noted authority. The kidneys filter this acid from the blood and pass it on to the bladder, where it often remains to irritate and inflame, causing a burning, scalding sensation, or setting up an irritation at the neck of the bladder, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night. The sufferer is in constant dread, the water passes sometimes with a scalding sensation and is very profuse; again, there is difficulty in avoiding it.

Bladder weakness, most folks call it, because they can't control urination. While it is extremely annoying and sometimes very painful, this is really one of the most simple ailments to overcome. Get about four ounces of Jad Salts from your pharmacist and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast, rontinue this for two or three days. This will neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation to the bladder and urinary organs which then act normally again.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is used by thousands of folks who are subject to urinary disorders caused by uric acid irritation. Jad Salts is splendid for kidneys and causes no bad effects whatever.

EVEN CROSS, SICK CHILDREN LOVE SYRUP OF FIGS

Don't scold your fretful, peevish child. See if tongue is coated; this is a sure sign its little stomach, liver and bowels are clogged with sour waste.

When listless, pale, feverish, full of cold, breath bad, throat sore, doesn't eat, sleep or act naturally, has stomach-ache, indigestion, diarrhœa, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the foul waste, the sour bile and fermenting food passes out of the bowels and you have a well and playful child again. Children love this harmless "fruit laxative," and mothers can rest easy after giving it, because it never fails to make their little "insides" clean and sweet.

Keep it handy, Mother! A little given today saves a sick child tomorrow, but get the genuine. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on the bottle. Remember there are counterfeits sold here, so surely look and see that yours is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company." Hand back with contempt any other fig syrup. —Advertisement.

What Am I? Murderer or Hero?
Galacian Fugitive Asks Uncle Sam

New York, Oct. 28.—"What am I in the eyes of the United States—murderer or hero?"

That is the question Miroslau Sichinsky, fugitive from Galicia, has put up to Uncle Sam through Commissioner of Immigration Frederick C. Howe, of this city.

In Galicia Sichinsky is acclaimed a hero by the little Russians, a people holding territory larger than Germany. A hero because he shot and killed the governor of Galicia on behalf of his oppressed people.

In America officials of the Austrian government hold that the act, stripped of its political aspects, is a plain case of murder, and therefore, Sichinsky can and should be extradited on such a charge.

Eight months ago Sichinsky entered this country under an assumed name. Today he reveals himself—admits slaying the Galician governor, of escaping from prison in his own country in a sensational manner, of entering this country under an alias—and now throws himself upon the mercy of the United States officials and asks "What is my status here?"

By his act he has created a situation without precedent in this country.

Sichinsky's story begins in 1908. The prologue years before, during which time Austrian officials had defrauded and oppressed and ground under an iron heel some 34,000,000 Ukrainians. The climax came in 1908, when electoral frauds became more than could be endured and the Ukrainians, through their deputies in the Galician diet, threatened an uprising.

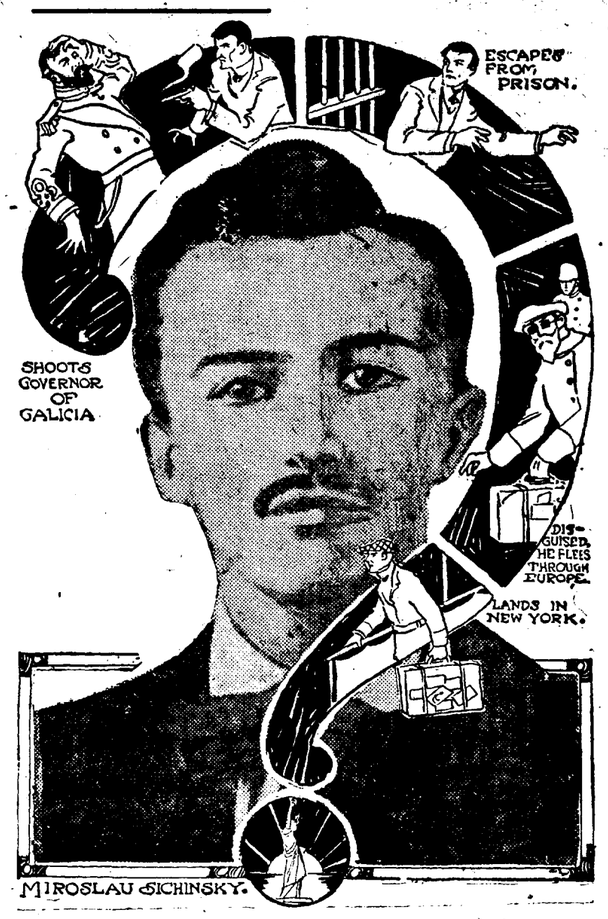
Then it was that a delegation of students from the University of Lemberg, Sichinsky among them, called upon Count Pototsky, governor, and hated foe of the Ukrainians.

During the audience the governor was shot down and Sichinsky arrested for the crime. As he was led away he exclaimed:

"I am no criminal! I have acted in behalf of my oppressed people."

From the moment Sichinsky was thrown into a dungeon in the great Stanislaw prison, an organized campaign was started to effect his escape. Never in the records of prison escapes was there one as unusual as this.

A "Society for the Escape of Sichinsky" came into being. The progress of its work and growth of its subscription list was published in the daily newspapers and the authorities in fear of an uprising, did nothing to suppress it.



Murderer or Hero! Fugitive from Galicia who admits slaying governor of his district and now demands to know what United States is going to do about it. Sketches show dramatic events of his life from the time of the shooting until his arrival in this country under an assumed name.

Finally, one night in 1911 Sichinsky made his escape. His cell door was thrown open and a bundle of clothes tossed in. These he donned, then crept to the great gateway, where he found two turnkeys, who had been bribed, ready to spirit him away in an automobile.

He was taken to a remote Ukrainian village, and then in various disguises made his way through Austria and Germany into Sweden. There he stayed until the war broke out, when he daringly ventured back to his own country in the role of war correspondent. Twice he was arrested, but each time released without his real identity becoming known.

Finally, warned by his friends that he was tempting fate too far, he came to America. That was eight months ago. Since then he has chafed under the thought that he entered and has been living here under an assumed name. He told friends he intended to confess and then see if this "land of the free" would shield him or send him back as a murderer to a prison or death in Austria. So a few days ago he told his story to the immigration officials—the whole story.

Now he asks: "What am I here—murderer or hero?"

Cheating Father Time And Other Aids to Beauty

Not so much the big wrinkles, but the little ones are what rob the face of its youthful appearance, and it's to keep old Father Time from putting his bookmark on the complexion that interests most women. Wrinkles and crow's feet can be prevented and, if not too old and big, can be massaged away if only the proper means are employed. A skin food that will make the skin plump and vigorous and remove quickly all traces and lines of age can be made as follows: Get from your druggist about two ounces of powdered eptol; dissolve this in half a pint of hot water and add a tablespoonful of glycerine; massage this freely into the skin and you will soon notice the difference in your appearance.

A hair tonic of unusual worth—simple, too—one that will dissolve away every particle of dandruff and will stop itching scalp and falling hair, can easily be made by mixing half a pint of alcohol with half a pint of water and adding one ounce of beta-pinol. If you have any hair faults whatever, just try this and see what a few weeks' treatment will do for you.

With fashions of today demanding hairless neck, arms, armpits and other parts of the body, the removal of superfluous hairs has been quite a problem. The electric needle is probably the best means, but this is painful and quite expensive. Pastes and powders and razors only increase the growth. The only safe and sure way is to dissolve the hairs; then you kill the hair roots entirely. If you will get a small bottle (an ounce will be all you will need) of simple sulfo solution from your druggist and apply to the hairs, you will find that in a few minutes they will be dissolved away entirely, leaving the skin soft and white.—Advertisement.

Youth Hits Rafters and Starts Up Again When Saved by Father.

Berwick, Pa., Oct. 28.—Tossed to the rafters of the cow stable by an angry bull, R. O. Shaffer, age twenty-six, of Zenith, narrowly escaped death before being rescued by his father.

When the bull turned on him as he was taking it to a watering trough, he landed on the bull's head, and after striking the rafters was tossed a second time. The father then seized the rope fastened to the bull's nose and snubbed the rope around a pole, when it turned on him. His son has two ribs fractured and suffers contused wounds of the body.

NOW STANDARD OF CITY OWNERSHIP

Fort Wayne Lighting Plant Ranks Among Best in Country.

That the municipal light and power works of Fort Wayne has become of highest rank and is held to be a standard of municipal ownership and operation in the field is evidenced by the numerous inquiries received by Secretary-Manager John Wessel for information relating to the plant. Two or three such inquiries are received each week. The most recent comes from the city of Lafayette, which is now interested in the subject of municipal ownership. The fact that the Fort Wayne lighting department does not carry any indebtedness, has one of the best equipped plants in the country, has brought the commercial lighting rate down to 7 cents and has made Fort Wayne one of the best illumined cities in the United States attracts widespread attention.

BIDS FOR ORNAMENTAL LAMPS.

Board Receives Proposals Thursday Night for Lincoln Avenue.

The board of works at its Thursday evening meeting will receive bids for the installation of an ornamental lighting system on Lincoln avenue from Broadway to Indiana avenue. Several bids are in prospect and the board expects to be able to make an award upon some one of the proposals. This will be the third ornamental lighting system to be installed within a few months on residential streets, an improvement for which there is an increasing demand.

The board will have up for confirmation Thursday evening the assessment rolls for a sewer on Lexington avenue from Calhoun street to the alley west of Harrison street, and for another sewer on Hoagland avenue from the alley north of Rudisill boulevard to the alley south of that thoroughfare.

COMPLETING STATE BOULEVARD.

Pedicating only that there should be no fall of rain before sundown, Martin J. Grace, head of the Grace Construction company, promised the board of works Thursday morning that he would complete the asphalt pavement on State boulevard by night and that it would be cleaned and ready for traffic on both sides of its entire length by night. This pavement is more than a mile long, and connects Forest park boulevard and the Lakeside system of pavements with Spy Run avenue. Contractor Grace says the asphalt portion of the Wayne Trace pavement will be completed by Saturday.

COMPLAINING OF STREET FLUSHING

A petition will be sent to the board of works by automobile owners asking for some reforms in the matter of street flushing. The motorists will ask that the flushing of asphalt streets be deferred until 3 o'clock in the morning, complaining that the wet condition of the streets after flushing is the cause of many accidents.

WANT CLOAK FIRM DECLARED BANKRUPT

A petition has been filed in the federal court by the Reskie Kirschbaum & Company, Herman Spivek & Company and Sosna & Dinkelman, of Chicago, asking that the Jerrold Cloak & Suit Company be declared a bankrupt. The petition alleges that the Jerrold Cloak & Suit Company is indebted to the extent of $13,000, while the business is not worth more than $3,000. The creditors' claims are as follows: Reskie Kirschbaum & Company, $1,764.10; Herman Spivek & Company, $49.50, and Sosna & Dinkelman, $27. Some time ago the superior court of Allen county appointed the Citizens' Trust Company receiver for the firm.

A voluntary petition in bankruptcy has been filed by Hiram B. Williams, of Reiffsburg, Wells county. He schedules his liabilities at $3,951.73 and his assets at $3,431.73.

ADDITIONAL COURTS.

The Symphony Player company has begun action in the superior court against Walter F. Rosenwinkel to collect $500 on a note. Thomas & Townsend are the plaintiff's attorneys.

Hugo Kohn has brought suit in the circuit court against the Inter-State Traffic school, of Fort Wayne, for money paid out and expended, demanding judgment for $750. The plaintiff states that from Dec. 7, 1914, to Oct. 19, 1915, he was manager of the defendant's business and as such manager paid out at its instance and request the sum of $861.60 for traveling expenses, advertisements, commissions to salesmen, office rental and the like and that there has been long an unnecessary delay in paying him. Breen & Morris are attorneys for the plaintiff.

The superior court has granted a divorce to Mabel Tomson from Thomas Tomson and permitted her to resume her maiden name, Mabel LeGraw.

FOR A BAD COUGH

Here is a fine old-fashioned recipe for coughs, colds or catarrh trouble that has been used for many years with great success. Get from your druggist 1 oz. of Parmint (Double Strength) and add to it ¼ pint of hot water, and 4 oz. of granulated sugar. Take one tablespoonful 4 times a day.

No more racking your whole body with a cough. Clogged nostril should open, air passages of your head clear up so you can breathe freely. It is easy to prepare, costs little and is pleasant to take. AT THE MAJESTIC.

When Marie Tempest Lunched With the Leopards.

In the way of hospitality extended to her in the different American cities in which she has appeared, Miss Marie Tempest, the delightful English comedienne whom we are to see in "The Duke of Killicrankie" and "Rosalind" at the Majestic theater, for one performance, Friday evening, Oct. 29, has experienced divers kinds and quantities. Both Miss Tempest and Mr. Browne, her leading man, on their arrival in Boston were invited, through Horace McCracken, the well-known animal agent, as spokesman, by Madame La Pompadour, seconded by Madame Rejane, to have luncheon with the latter at Franklin Park, an elaborate and popular part of Boston's splendid park system. The spokesman explained that it was impossible for these two distinguished hostesses to come down town on that day to deliver their invitations in person, as the two ladies did most of their entertaining behind the bars of their cage since they were the most beautiful leopards in the menagerie department at the park. Miss Tempest's acceeptance took the form of the following note:

"Both Mr. Browne and I accept with thanks the ladies' kind invitation to luncheon on Tuesday, but we both must insist that our portion of the meal be cooked."

Miss Tempest's fear was groundless, for the two hostesses acquitted themselves beautifully. Two small tables, one within the cage and the other placed close beside it outside the bars, seated the guests and their entertainers, although it must be confessed that the quality and quantity of food differed a bit. For instance, the hostesses evinced no more interest in Miss Tempest's maccaroons or ices than Mr. Browne or the actress displayed in the raw steak and dainty carrots, sliced raw, that the hostesses devoured with a deplorable lack of attention towards their guests.

"Twin Beds" on Saturday.

Salisbury Field and Margaret Mayo, authors of "Twin Beds," the laugh festival which Selwyn and Company are sending to the Majestic theater on Saturday matinee and night after its record-breaking run of fiftytwo weeks in New York, have laid the scenes of their rollicking farce in a field infinitely rich in humorous possibilities in brief, in a big apartment house in New York which is so compact that neighborliness is at once horrible to indulge and impossible to avoid. The slangy forthrightness of Signora Monti in keeping her "wop" to the "straight and narrow" and her distress at being pulled one way by her love for him, and the other by her utter exasperation, give play to some of the cleverest lines heard in a farce since "Baby Mine," also Margaret Mayo's play.

AT THE EMPRESS.

There's a mighty busy bunch of people at the Empress theater this week, preparing for the opening of the Empress stock company next week under the management of Harvey M. Porter. Scene painters and carpenters are busy preparing the scenes and sets for "Broadway Jones," which will be the opening attraction, and electricians are busy installing new lighting effects, while the members of the stock company are rehearsing daily. The initial offering of "Broadway Jones" is sure to register a great hit with Fort Wayne, because it is clean, snappy, laughable and delightful. It is the production in which George M. Cohan achieved his greatest success. Frank Jones, Fort Wayne's favorite actor, portraying comedy parts, will have the role of Jackson Broadway Jones, while winsome Miss Helen Gleason will act the role of Clara Spootswood. Miss Gleason is a charming actress. Fort Wayne theatergoers will fall in love with her. McLain Gates, who is called "Mac" by all his friends, who are all the people who see him on the stage, will play the part of Robert Wallace. Miss Shirley Moore will play the role of Josie Richards, while Harry Manners will enact the part of Peter Pembrooke.

AT THE TEMPLE.

TEMPLE PLAYERS' WARDROBES.

Fort Wayne's Favorite Stock Players Well Provided.

The extent of the wardrobe that a stock player in a company presenting as pretentious productions as the Temple theater players are staging, is required to own, is exemplified every week at the Temple. This week, for instance, Maurice Jenkins' wardrobe yielded a complete suit of Mexican dress clothes, from sombrero to flashy sash, while Miss Alma Powell, playing opposite Mr. Jenkins in the riotous farce comedy, "The Man From Mexico," located a Spanish dancer's costume that needed but very little attention from Miss Powell's deft needle to fashion it to meet the requirements of the comedy. Since the company opened here not one of the women has worn the same gown on any two weeks. These creations are ripped apart and fashioned anew every week by Miss Mary A. Durfield, wardrobe mistress of the company. Of course she is assisted in this work by the artists themselves.

Next week the Temple players will be seen in the great American play, Mary Jane's Pa, by Miss Edith Ellis.

AT KEITH PALACE

AN ADDITIONAL ACT.

Kremka Brothers, Famous Acrobats, on Palace Bill.

Prevented from appearing in the opening performance of the current Keith bill at the New Palace theater because of injuries sustained a week ago while presenting their hazardous act, the Kremka Brothers have recovered and this afternoon were one of the host of attractions on this remarkable collection of variety talent. Petite Elida Morris, with the vivacious style and the dainty feet, is singing and dancing her way into the affections of Fort Wayne's public. Robbie Gordone, the venus of vaudeville, presents a series of art reproductions that are startling, not only in their realism, but also in the speed with which she shifts from one pose to another. "Adam Killjoy" is the big sketch in which Henry Holman and company are appearing with marked success. Some of the other big Keith features are Milo, vaudeville's prime mystery; the Four Sultanas, a singing combination of rare merit; Hoey and Lee, yiddisher comedian of distinction, and the Keith films.

AT THE JEFFERSON.

Mrs. Fiske Praised in "Vanity Fair."

It is interesting to note the comments by the different newspaper critics who are now devoting a great deal of attention to the silent drama. In their criticisms of Mrs. Fiske in "Vanity Fair," the seven reel Edison masterpiece which plays today and tomorrow at the Jefferson they all seem to be of one opinion. Kitty Kelly, of the Chicago Tribune, says Mrs. Fiske has brought her perky, independent Becky to the screen. This is a treasure. Pittsburg Sun:—Mrs. Fiske is superb in her far famed role of Becky Sharp and gives a most animated interpretation of the character. Her performance is a finished piece of acting which surpasses the best of her stage work. And so they go on in their praise of this masterpiece of the Thackeray classic. While showing at advanced prices in other cities the management has generously placed "Vanity Fair" at the disposal of the local theater-goers at the usual scale. With it will be the Paramount Travels, these two features forming a two hour performance. Shows will begin at 1, 3, 5, 7, and 9 p. m. Saturday, Florence LaBadie, heroine of a thousand film successes, will appear in "The Price of Her Silence," a Mutual masterpicture.

AT THE ORPHEUM.

EMINENT ACTOR AT ORPHEUM.

Frederick Perry, the wonderful actor, who scored such a profound sensation with his acting in the great stage success, "On Trial," adds appreciably to his reputation by his brilliant work in "The Family Stain," the latest of the celebrated William Fox photoplays, and which is seen at the Orpheum theater for three days, commencing today.

"The Family Strain" is adapted in six acts from Emile Gaboriau's thrilling detective story, "The Widow Lerouge," and presents one of the most engrossing plots ever incorporated within the confines of a story. The intricacies of the story, the magnificence of the settings in the play and the superb acting of the players participating serves to make this one of the most acceptable photoplays imaginable.

Monday will see Holbrook Blinn at the Orpheum in a picturization of Owen Davis' risque sex drama, "The Family Cupboard," which created any amount of town tattle when it was given on the stage with Irene Fenwick in a principal role.

THE GRAND.

Francis X. Bushman and Beverly Bayne at the Grand Today.

"Providence and Mrs. Urmy"—This three-reel drama about an American girl who unknowingly marries a lord is put together with so much skill and so well acted by Beverly Bayne, Francis X. Bushman, Louise Crollus and Helen Dunbar, that it has all the charm of a fresh subject.

Mrs. Urmy is so anxious for her daughter Jeannette to marry a member of the nobility that she has inserted in an English newspaper that an engagement is pending between Jeannette and Lord Chilminster, notwithstanding the fact that neither has seen the other. Jeannette reads the announcement and runs away with a chauffeur who has driven up to the house of Lady Hartley, her aunt. To end her troubles quickly Jeannette suggests that the chauffeur marry her, but that she be allowed to remain a wife in name only.

BRITISH WARSHIP IS A TOTAL WRECK

London, Oct. 28.—The British cruiser Argyll has run aground and may be a total wreck. All hands were rescued. This was made known by the admiralty today in the following announcement:

"H. M. S. Argyll, Captain James Tancred R. N., grounded this morning off the east coast of Scotland. Owing to bad weather prevailing it is feared she may become a total wreck. All her officers and the crew have been saved."

The Argyll, 10,850 tons displacement, was laid down in 1902. Her normal complement is 655. She is 450 feet long. Her largest guns are 7.5 inches, of which she carries four. She has six 6-inch, two 3-inch and twenty-two 3-pound guns and two torpedo tubes.

NUMEROUS STRIKES BACK FOR BUSINESS

"Strikes and lockouts are all too numerous for the good of general business and they are injuring not only the lines in which they occur, but all other lines as well," says the monthly letter just issued by the Old National bank. "It is hard to believe that more than 100,000 employes now attempting to enforce demands for higher wages were, just a year ago, asking for work at almost any figure. If reasonable demands are met by the employers and if unreasonable demands are not made by the employes, the next few months will be a period of practically full employment."

SAYS ENGLAND'S WEALTH IS DODGING

Not Contributing Proper Share to War Taxes, Asserts Authority.

London, Oct. 20.—Correspondence of The Associated Press).—Sir Edward Clarke, the great English legal authority, is of the opinion that the accumulated wealth of the country, which he says is "amply sufficient to pay for four or five times over the estimated cost of the war," is not contributing its proper share to the war taxes.

"There is one large part of that accumulated wealth which during the lifetime of its owner pays nothing at all to the national exchequer," he writes. "I refer to the enormous sum which is represented by the stores of works of art, furniture, books, plates, china, glass and jewelry which are to be found in the houses of well-to-do people. The pleasure and comfort and the advantages in social position which man or woman derives from these is as much an annual profit as the dividends would be if they were sold and the money invested in stocks or shares.

"I suggest that the owners of property of this kind should be obliged to make a statement of its value, and where that exceeded, say £300 ($1,500), four per cent. on that sum be treated as income and added to the owner's assessment for income tax. This would ring in a very large immediate revenue, and a still greater benefit would be that we should have a registar of the property on which a levy might afterwards be made."

"Rows of small dwellings can be seen where no street number appears on door or gate, but some aristocratic or romantic name has been adopted," he says. "The smaller the house the more splendid is its title."

He would make those who put on airs in this fashion pay $5 a year for the privilege.

BULGARIANS OCCUPY SERBIAN STRONGHOLD

Again Capture Pirot, Scene of Important Battle Between Bulgarians and Serbs in 1885.

London, Oct. 28.—Bulgarian forces aiming toward Nish have occupied the strongly fortified town of Pirot, says a dispatch to the Mail from Saloniki. Pirot is 35 miles east of Nish. It was the scene of an important battle between Serbs and Bulgarians in 1885.

Since Sunday the allies' troop trains have run without interruption between Gievgeli and Veles. This section, it is said, has been entirely cleared of Bulgarians.

More Favorable to Allies.

Unofficial reports from Greek sources represent the situation in southern Serbia as somewhat more favorable to the entente allies. A dispatch from Athens which has not been confirmed, states that the Bulgarians have withdrawn from Uskup. Advices from Saloniki tell of a fierce battle along the Veles-Komanovo front, with the Bulgarians retreating. Hope is being revived in London that the Serbians will be able to reform their lines along the Monastir front.

The Germans having effected a junction with their Bulgarian allies, it is possible that the campaign will be shifted in an effort to relieve Serbia to an attempt to cut communication with Constantinople. In this connection military critics hazard the guess that the entente allies are not likely to withdraw from Saloniki, no matter what happens to Serbia.

Germans Change Direction.

Riga and Dvinsk remain the chief German objectives on the eastern front. The direction of the German assault against Riga may have changed. Fighting is reported west of the city, the main attacks against which hitherto have been directed from the southwest and southeast. Lake Babite, where minor engagements have occurred, is west of Riga, running parallel with the shore of the gulf.

On the other fronts comparative inactivity prevails.

The Saloniki correspondent of the Havas News agency says the fighting on the Franco-Bulgarian front has subsided, calm having prevailed for 24 hours.

A squadron of French aeroplanes has been assembled at Saloniki and is soon to proceed by air to the front.

VIVANI MINISTRY RESIGNS TODAY

Retiring Premier Expected to Take Portfolio of Justice.

Paris, Oct. 28.—The Viviani ministry resigned today. Aristide Briand has been asked to form a new cabinet. It is understood that when the former premier completes his new cabinet M. Viviani will be minister of justice in it.

The cabinet in its new form will not be ready to appear before parliament this afternoon, according to the impression prevailing in political circles. Paul Deschanel, president of the chamber, will move an adjournment until tomorrow when the work of reconstruction will be complete. Information now available indicates that M. Briand will become foreign minister as well as premier, with Jules Cambon, who was ambassador to Germany at the outbreak of the war as his principal secretary. In addition to M. Viviani, probable designations are: Minister of war, Gen. J. S. Galieni, military governor of Paris; minister of marine, Rear Admiral Lucaze; minister of agriculture, Etienne Clementel, former minister of agriculture and of finance; minister of commerce, L. L. Klotz, former minister of the interior and of finance, or Joseph Thierry, under secretary in the ministry of war; minister of instruction, Emile Combes, former premier. The other members of the present cabinet, according to this program, will continue in their present positions.

Since the resignation of Theophile Delcasse, the famous statesman, as minister of foreign affairs, it had been understood there would be further changes but reports from Paris previously have not indicated that such a sweeping re-organization, involving the withdrawal of M. Viviani was to be made. M. Delcasse's resignation was said to be due to a disagreement regarding Balkan policy of France but Premier Viviani said in the chamber of deputies at the time that there was no discord in the cabinet. The French cabinet has been previously reorganized since the beginning of the war. The Viviani ministry resigned on Aug. 26 of last year and a coalition cabinet was formed, with M. Viviani remaining at its head. M. Briand has held several cabinet positions and was premier from Jan. 21 to March 18, of 1913. He is minister of justice in the present cabinet.

JAPAN IS NOT TO INVITE CHRISTIAN

Adheres to Original Intention for Coronation Ceremony.

Tokio, Oct. 2.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)—Japan has decided to adhere to her original intention not to invite a representative of the Christian religion to the coronation ceremonies of Emperor Yoshohito, to be held in Kioto early next month. Japanese Christians tried to induce the court and government to change the original plans on the ground that Christianity is now one of the prominent religions of the empire, but the authorities have decided that only a representative of the Buddhist and Shinto religions will attend the Kioto ceremonies. The explanation given is that Buddhist and Shinto priests have a court rank in Japan, which entitles them to an invitation. On the other hand, the coronation board will recognize the religions of the west by inviting their representatives to the banquets to be held Nov. 16 in various cities of the empire simultaneously with the first coronation feast proper, which will be given at Kioto by the emperor on that date. More than 100,000 people will be present at these various commemorative feasts.

The coronation board says it is very desirous of having it understood that the coming coronation will be distinctly a national affair. It points out that the expenses will be borne by the nation and that officials of the government and every class of people in the empire will be represented.

The members of the diplomatic corps will attend two of the principal coronation ceremonies and the three coronation feasts to be held at Kioto, but they will not be invited to the third great ceremony at Kioto, known as the daijosai or grand harvest thanksgiving festival. No anti-foreign consideration enters in the question, officials explained, but this being an archaic ritual service, which is purely and simply Japanese and which has been in no way influenced or changed by western civilization, it has been deemed best to invite no foreigners. This is the ceremony at which the emperor offers the sacred rice to the ancestral gods and himself partakes of the sacred food.

GIRL'S HEADLESS BODY ON TRACKS

Daughter of Former Mayor of Pittsburg Meets Death on Railroad.

Pittsburg, Pa., Oct. 28.—The headless body of Miss Sophia McCallin, daughter of the late Wm. C. McCallin, former mayor of Pittsburg, was found early today on the Pennsylvania railroad tracks at Roup, a passenger station in the city limits.

The body was so badly crushed that identification was impossible until this morning, when her absence from the office of E. S. Morrow, city comptroller, whose secretary she was, started an inquiry, and was established by a diamond pin bearing her name.

COLGAN LEAVES FOR HOME IN CHICAGO

He Has Been in Charge of Strike for International Organization.

J. E. Colgan, member of the general executive board of the Amalgamated Association of Street and Electric Railway Employes of America, who has been here during the strike of the street car men representing the international organization, has returned to his home in Chicago. Whether he expects to return is not known.

More cars were stoned Wednesday night, Mrs. Patterson, a janitress at the general offices of the Fort Wayne and Northern Indiana Traction company, being cut by broken glass on the Huffman street line about 5 o'clock. She was not seriously hurt. A brick was hurled through a car on the Driving park line, breaking the glass but doing no other damage.

The traction company now has over 190 men here as motormen and conductors, more than a sufficient number to man every car in service on the city lines. Many of these men have purchased new uniforms and are expecting to remain here permanently. Friday will be the third pay day for the former employes of the company at the Federation of Labor headquarters in Harmony hall on West Berry street.

No Action is Taken.

No action was taken Wednesday in the federal court at Indianapolis on the petition for an injunction filed by attorneys for the United States Mortgage and Trust company, of Philadelphia, bondholders for the Fort Wayne and Northern Indiana Traction company, to enjoin Mayor Hosey, Manager John Wessel, of the city lighting department, solicitors, local labor leaders and fifty-eight striking car men from interfering with the traction company's lighting business and operation of cars. Judge Anderson held court during the day and Wednesday evening left for Chicago, where he will be until Saturday.

The list of defendants named in the petition is as follows: W. J. Hosey, mayor; John Wessel, manager of the municipal light plant; Joseph C. Schultz, E. P. Thomas, William H. Rossington and August C. Car Hits Wagon.

G. A. Kohlinger, 612 Riverside, proprietor of a carpet cleaning and rug establishment on Wagner street, and Edward Sproats, residing on Alliger avenue, narrowly escaped serious injuries about 5 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, when the wagon on which they were riding was struck by a city car at Tennessee and Spy Run avenues. Both men were thrown to the ground, the wagon being turned completely over and badly damaged.

MAY USE EASTLAND AS TRAINING SHIP

Chicago, Oct. 28.—The steamship Eastland, which tipped over in the Chicago river Aug. 6, with a loss of 812 lives, may be used as a government naval training ship it was announced today. Captain Edward Evers, of the Illinois naval reserves said Gov. Edward F. Dunne had approved of the plan and that an investigation is now in progress to satisfy naval authorities at Washington as to the seaworthiness of the boat. Alterations are to be made in the hull to remove all danger, it was said. The ship is to be held at public auction under an order of the United States district court and unless unforeseen obstacles develop the government, it was said, will buy it and remodel it into a training ship.

"I'M VERY COMFY HERE" SAYS DEAR LITTLE EVA

"And I Have No Handkerings for the Sunny South" —Benders Want In.

"President W. E. Essick, of the Grand Rapids Central league baseball club, is in receipt of word from President Harry Stahlhefer, of the Evansville club, in which the director in chief of the pennant winner this year says there is absolutely no foundation to the report to the effect tha Evansville is seeking a berth in the Southern association. He says Evansville considers the Central league the best minor league in existence and that he is very hopeful of winning another pennant next year.

"This puts at rest the numerous reports to the effect that Evansville and Terre Haute are planning on getting into other leagues. Stahlhefer also said that he understood Terre Haute is perfectly satisfied with the Central league with the exception of a few minor matters which he expects will be remedied at the meeting to be held in Evansville a week from next Sunday. It has been reported that Terre Haute was planning a flop to the Three-I league.

"The Evansville board of trade is going to give a spread a week from next Saturday night in honor of the delegates who attend the league meeting the day following.

"President Essick also is in receipt of a communication from Ed Smith in which the former Grand Rapids manager expressed a desire to secure a Central league franchise for South Bend. Essick says he is for Smith and South Bend if a vacancy occurs in the circuit."

END OF BASEBALL WAR DRAWING NEAR

National Takes Steps Toward Elimination of the Feds.

Chicago, Oct. 28.—Plans are nearing consummation to terminate the baseball war by absorbing into the National league the men who hold the Federal league's bank roll.

The deal probably would have been completed already but for the sudden death of R. B. Ward, president of the Brookfeds, who generally was credited with having put more money into baseball than any other individual during the professional life of the sport.

The plans which were submitted to organized baseball representatives by Federal league promoters during the world's series, and on which leading spirits in the National and Federal leagues have been working industriously, contemplate taking into part ownership in different National league clubs Harry Sinclair, Phil Ball, Charles Weeghman, William Walker, Edward Gwinner and the heirs of the late R. B. Ward.

That would eliminate five of the Federal league clubs—Newark, Brooklyn, Pittsburg, Chicago and St. Louis—and the other three would have to be provided for by the American association and the International league. Kansas City is in A. A. territory and Baltimore and Buffalo are within the boundaries of the International. The Newark plant of the Federal league is to be retained for use on Sundays by the New York Giants.

The scheme is outlined is for Sinclair to become part owner of the Giants, Ball to purchase the Britton equity in the St. Louis Cards, Gwinner to be bought out by Dreyfuss or to be allowed to buy into the Pirates, and the Whales and Cubs to be consolidated and play on the north side grounds in this city. The Ward interests may be taken care of either in the New York or Brooklyn club, and the present Brookfed plant would become available for the International league.

The obstacles in the way of this deal are said to be President Johnson, of the American league, and Charles W. Murphy, phantom owner of the Cubs, the latter of whom is pretty generally credited with having blocked the peace negotiations which were started last winter between Messrs. Weeghman and Herrmann.

Any one who recalls the events of last fall and winter is willing to believe the consent of C. W. Murphy will be found necessary to any scheme for the amalgamation of the Cubs and Whales and their removal from the west side grounds, in which Murphy owns a half interest. This matter is said to be in the hands of National league officials at present.

Just how President Johnson, of the American league, is figured as an obstacle to the consolidation scheme of the National and Federal leagues is not disclosed, unless it is through refusal to surrender claim to players who jumped American league contracts to perform in the Federal circuit. Among the side issues is a plan to supplant Miller Huggins as manager of the St. Louis Cardinals and give the reins to Fielder Jones, manager of the St. Louis Feds. This may be opposed by Owner Comiskey, of the White Sox.

PLAYS BALL AT 67; BATS OVER .300 IN 61 GAMES.

George Artzberger, wealthy shoe dealer of Pittsburg, claims to be the oldest active ball player in the world. He is 67.

During the past season he played on one of the best teams in Allegheny county. He was in 61 contests and batted .326. He plays the outfield.

In one game Artzberger made five hits, scored four runs and stole two bases. He says he can bat, run and throw a ball as well as he did twenty years ago.

Boys Whose Forebears Made World History, Star in Athletic Events.

(By Brown Holmes).

Behind the careers of three collegians attracting attention as athletes stand the records of fathers and forefathers as statesmen who played prominent parts in moulding the political history of the country.

The background of the operations of the collegians consists of chalk-marked gridirons while the background of the work of their ancestors was the white house and senate chamber.

Two of the athletes are sons of former presidents—Charley Taft, of the Yale football squad, and Grover Cleveland, jr., Yale pole vaulter. The other is Allen G. Thurman III., grandson of Allan G. Thurman, who was known as the "Old Roman" when he was winning political honors, and son of Lee Thurman, of the department of commerce, Washington.

Of the records of the three athletes that of Thurman is the best. He startled the football world several weeks ago when his sensational kicking gave the University of Virginia eleven, a minor aggregation, a victory over Yale.

A week later he held the great Eddie Mahan even in a punting duel at Harvard stadium.

Thurman's gridiron career started at East high school, Columbus, O., where he was a kicking prodigy. Even then he punted from 60 to 70 yards. In 1913 he went to Mercersburg academy, starred at football, and repeated the next year at Princeton preparatory school.

Then Thurman entered University of Virginia, where his father before him had been captain of the baseball team. He made the eleven right off the reel. He has starred in all of Virginia's games and is rated one of the greatest kickers the gridiron has ever produced.

TO MAKE BASKETBALL MORE SAFE AND SANE

New Rule is "Play Ball and Not the Man"—A Good Move.

(By Brown Holmes).

Basketball rules, just issued, show many changes and the object of the changes, according to the joint rules committee, is not only to provide a uniform code for all games but to induce players to "play the ball and not the man."

Every effort has been made to center play about the ball and baskets and not about the players.

New rules govern blocking, holding and charging and especial attention of players and referees is called to the penalties in these departments.

It is expected the rules will take a good deal of "rough house" out of the game and make it more open for the benefit of players as well as spectators.

The rules have been adopted by the Young Men's Christian association, Amateur Athletic union and National Collegiate Athletic association, so that this year, for the first time, all games will be played under the same code. In former years there were two sets of rules and the style of game permitted under them was vastly different.

Another states that on a free trial for goal players will be allowed to enter the free throw lane as soon as the ball hits the basket or background. This is expected to be an improvement over both sets of old rules as the time for entering the lane is fixed definitely.

When the referee awards the ball to a player out of bounds, an opponent is not allowed to touch the ball and delay play long enough for his men to "cover" opponents. This is planned to do away with one of the most unsportsmanlike features of the game.

The rule book comments on the changes in the code and pays especial attention to the rules on blocking, holding and charging, the idea being to do away as much as possible with personal contact and roughness.

Boy—Yes, sir.

Golfer—What's the most striking thing about him, boy?

Boy—His fist!

TWO CHILDREN HAD CROUP.

The two children of J. W. Nix, merchant of Cleveland, Ga., had croup last winter. One was a boy of 6, the other a girl of 8 years. Mr. Nix writes: "Both got so choked up they could hardly breathe and couldn't talk. I gave them Foley's Honey and Tar and nothing else and it entirely cured them." This reliable medicine should be in every home for it gives immediate relief from colds, coughs and croup, heals raw, inflamed throat and loosens phlegm. Dreier Drug Co.—Advertisement.

JACK HENDRICKS MAY BE PIRATE BOSS

Rumored That Former Fort Wayne Manager Will Succeed Clarke.

Fort Wayne fans will be greatly interested in the rumor that is floating about the corriders of the big leagues to the effect that Jack Hendricks, former manager of the Fort Wayne Central leaguers, is to succeed Fred Clarke as manager of the Pittsburg Pirates. Hendricks now is manager of the Indianapolis American association team.

With the resignation of Clark the owners of the Pittsburg club began to cast about for a new leader, and picked Hans Wagner for the place. Now it looks as though Wagner isn't going to stick to the club, and at least he seems to care nothing about the managerial position.

So Jack Hendricks was picked as the most likely successor to Clarke, and it is understood that he has been in Pittsburg going over the matter with the Pirate owners.

PICTURES FIGHT FOR LIFE IN SEA DEPTHS

Board Makes Public Its Report on F-4 Disaster at Honolulu.

Washington, Oct. 28.—A graphic story of the battle for life waged in vain 300 feet beneath the surface of the sea by the twenty-one men who perished in the navy's submarine F-4 last March at Honolulu is told in the final report on the loss of the vessel, submitted by a board of inquiry, headed by Rear Admiral Bush and made public today. Examination of the wrecked hull after it had been brought to the surface and placed in dry dock convinced the board that the disaster was caused by a leak resulting from a corroded battery lining, and the failure of the boat through poor diving qualities to respond promptly to the rudder change which should have returned her to the surface.

Discarding the theory once advanced that chlorine gas brought quick relief in death to the crew, the board from signs within the rusted and battered hulk pieces out in its report a dramatic account of how the doomed men strove desperately to save themselves as their vessel sank to the bottom. Fifteen met death in the engine room, where they sought refuge at the last; six died at their posts in the flooded forward compartment.

Absolved From Blame.

"From the facts established we find that the accident resulting in disaster to the U. S. S. submarine F-4, on March 25, 1915, was not due to carelessness, negligence or inefficiency on the part of the officers or men of the vessel and that, furthermore the personnel remained at their respective stations until all effective means employed to avert the disaster impending had failed and thereafter sought refuge."

From its examination of the valves of the automatic device which was set to expel water from the vessel's ballast tanks at a depth of 100 feet as required by deparamental regulations, the board found that the accident which started the F-4 on her downward plunge had occurred before the 100 foot mark was reached.

The most effective procedure for sending the boat to the surface was promptly carried out, diving rudders were set to send her up, valves opened to empty the forward ballast tanks, and the electric motors started to drive her upward all without avail. It was then some members of the crew rushed into the engine room compartment and the door of the bulkhead was closed. Fifteen bodies were found there and from this fact and the position of valves and rubbers the board concluded that: "Some member or members of the personnel were alive and capable of action for at least a short time after the occurrence which led to the disaster."

Makes Stubborn Coughs Vanish in a Hurry

Surprisingly Good Cough Syrup
Easily and Cheaply
Made at Home

If some one in your family has an obstinate cough or a bad throat or chest cold that has been hanging on and refuses to yield to treatment, get from any drug store 2½ ounces of Pinex and make it into a pint of cough syrup, and watch that cough vanish.

Pour the 2½ ounces of Pinex (50 cents worth) into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup. The total cost is about 54 cents, and gives you a full pint—a family supply—of a most effective remedy, at a saving of $2. A day's use will usually overcome a hard cough. Easily prepared in 5 minutes—full directions with Pinex. Keeps perfectly and has a pleasant taste. Children like it.

It's really remarkable how promptly and easily it loosens the dry, hoarse or tight cough and heals the inflamed membranes in a painful cough. It also stops the formation of phlegm in the throat and bronchial tubes, thus ending the persistent loose cough. A splendid remedy for bronchitis, winter coughs, bronchial asthma and whooping cough.

Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, rich in guaiacol, which is so healing to the membranes.

Avoid disappointment by asking your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex," and do not accept anything else. A guarantee of absolute satisfaction goes with this preparation or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

Pianos Of Quality

These kind of Pianos have always been associated with the name of JACOBS since this house was established in Fort Wayne thirty years ago. It is a great pleasure and satisfaction to know that we have held the confidence and esteem of the musical public so many years, and in appreciation of this allegiance the Jacobs Music House is constantly seeking higher standards of excellence in the field of Piano and Player manufacture.

It is, therefore, with a keen sense of pride that Mr. Jacobs announces his exclusive agency of an instrument that is the "last word" in artistic effort of piano production, the world famed and also the exclusive agency for

Lyon & Healy Pianos and Players

The Steinway Piano is the most sought in America today. It is freely acknowledged everywhere to be the world's standard and all musical people should realize that when they buy a Steinway Upright for $500 or a Steinway Grand for $750, (except as to size or case details), they bring into their homes the most exquisite example of piano production.

The introduction of the Steinway and Lyon & Healy lines in no way depreciates the high character of the other instruments that have for so long upheld the JACOBS name and which have done so much to popularize the JACOBS MUSIC HOUSE in Fort Wayne and all northern Indiana. In our ware rooms and private exhibition parlors are to be found all of the other famous lines that we have carried so many years, among them the following:

Kranich & Bach — A. B. Chase — Henry F. Miller
Krakauer — Shoninger — And Others

We ask you to come in and make yourself at home in our store. We shall make your visit a pleasant one. From this time until Christmas we will have at all times the largest showing of high and medium grade pianos and players to be found in any city of this size in the country.

OUR TERMS Are Easy If You Wish to Avail Yourselves of Them.

As heretofore we respectfully ask the patronage of the discerning public.

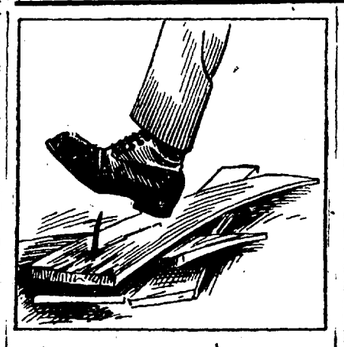
BEWARE THE RUSTY NAIL



Another Victim.

SOME of the most painful and serious accidents befall us when we are least expecting them. It is a common thing to step on a rusty nail and cause all kinds of trouble.

S. M. Holtzman, employed with the Standard Oil company, Fort Wayne, had the misfortune a short time ago to step on a sharp-pointed nail which punctured his foot and caused him to "lay up" several days for repairs. Fortunately Mr. Holtzman carries a policy in the Fort Wayne Mercantile Accident association, and he received $45 as a reward for his preparedness.

Another victim of the treacherous rusty nail is A. C. Foerster, of Batesville, Ind., who stepped on an uninviting specimen while walking on a board sidewalk. He, too, carries a policy in the Mercantile, of Fort Wayne, and the company took care of his loss.

The association is receiving an immense number of new members this fall. Many are Fort Wayne people who have just appeared to waken to the splendid protection offered by the home institution. The association office is located in the People's Trust building, where the secretary, L. H. Ransom, will be pleased to explain the association's policy to any who call. Phone 2494.

Among the benefits offered by the Mercantile are the following: $25 a week for total disability; $12.50 a week for partial disability; $1,200 for the loss of one eye; $2,500 for the loss of one leg; $2,500 for the loss of one arm; $5,000 in case of death by accident; $5,000 for the loss of both arms or both legs; $5,000 for the loss of both eyes; $1,200 for the loss of one hand or foot. And the cost for this protection does not exceed $10 per year.

SHOP AND RAILROAD NEWS

FREIGHT TRAFFIC IS VERY HEAVY

Some Roads Are Being Operated to Capacity of Motive Power.

All of the freight engines the Wabash had in "white lead" are now in service, the last to leave this city being 2042 and 2022, latest and heaviest patterns on the road. Traffic over the line is simply immense and as the weather is most favorable for it, the big business is being handled at a minimum cost. Other roads are also enjoying a big business. On the G. R. & I. all of the power is in service, handling a business which comes very near being a record breaker for the time of year. On this road coal shipments which formerly started in August, did not get well under way this year until the latter part of September and at present they are the heaviest in the history of the line. Structural iron and grain shipments are also heavy, while the sugar beet business is the heaviest in the history of the Decatur sugar plant. The Pennsylvania and the Nickel Plate are also doing a good business, though on these lines traffic is no heavier than usual at this season of the year.

LOGANSPORT FEELS HONORED.

Takes Pride in Fact That Wabash President Began Life in That City.

The election of Edward F. Kearney president of the re-organized Wabash company, is cause for rejoicing at Logansport, Ind., where Mr. Kearney began his railway career in the capacity of a messenger in the offices of the company. He remained in Logansport until he became trainmaster of the Chicago division of the Panhandle, going thence to a higher position with another company. Under the caption of "Kearney on the Job," the Logansport Pharos-Reporter last Tuesday said:

"Edward F. Kearney is now the official head of the great Wabash railroad system and the whole country is looking for a common sense administration of that great property that will put the Wabash to the front as one of the best managed pieces of railroad property in the United States. President Kearney will cut much of the red tape that has hampered the growth and natural development of that road and will remove it from the atmosphere of a "gamble" that has surrounded the Wabash to a more or less degree from the time of the elder Gould. Logansport people will watch the progress of events on the Wabash with the intense interest with which a father watches the enterprises of a favorite son. The new Wabash corporation is capitalized at $143,460,000. King Solomon once said "Seest thou a man diligent in business! He shall stand before kings, he shall not stand before mean men." Kearney was "diligent in business."

CALLERS WALLOP SWITCHMEN.

Beat Them in the Second of a Series of Bowling Games.

The second of the series of bowling games between the Pennsylvania switchmen's team and the callers' team at the Star alleys last night resulted in a sweeping victory for the callers, who were beaten in the first game by the switchmen. The score was as follows: The switchmen—Switzer, 158, 142 and 159; Hilker, 150, 142 and 185; Groves, 157, 147 and 145; Berghoff, 148, 153 and 141; Stemand, 167, 133 and 134. Total, 2,263. The callers—Meehan, 150, 145 and 154; Tierney, 158, 140 and 143; Miller, 148, 146 and 139; Quinn, 221, 150 and 180; McLellan, 163, 149 and 195. Total, 2,355.

HAVE NEW OFFICE.

Pennsylvania Valuation Clerks Now Located in Abandoned Car.

Coach No. 17609 has been set upon a siding in the Pennsylvania lumber yards, where it will serve as an office for the clerks in the valuation department of the road. The seats will be taken out and tables, file racks and cabinets placed in the car and the clerks will do all their indoor work there hereafter. They are now located in the motive power offices on the second floor of the Pennsylvania office building on Clinton street, which is very crowded. A. S. Courtney is at the head of the valuation work here and with four or five assistants will hereafter occupying the car.

EDUCATION FINDS NEW CONTINENTS

Real of Unexplored Still Vast One, Prof. Willet Tells Teachers.

Indianapolis, Oct. 28.—"New Continents" was the title chosen by Prof. Herbert L. Willett, of the University of Chicago, for his address here today before the Indiana state teachers' convention. Dr. Willett applied the metaphor of discovery and exploration to educational questions, saying in part:

"Humanity has always been busy at the task of finding the unexplored. The discovery and colonization of America released a new set of human interests, the quest for scientific mastery of nature, the conquest of matter by mind, the development of inventive genius, and the growth of educational science. It would seem that the American ideal is material success. More slowly have come to expression the elements of ethical and religious concern.

"Perhaps these higher factors in the life of the race are yet to find their due expression in that dim and uncharted Asia from which most of the spiritual teachers have come, and which has shown itself as yet unaroused by the occidental passions of commerce and convenience, in which we are too content to find the secrets of civilization and progress.

"These advancing continents of colonization and human interest are further interesting as illustrative of the expanding life of the individual. Man is like the planet on which he resides, and the maps he makes of its surface are like the convolutions of his own brain. And he is as old as the oldest of the continents. The oldest thing in the world is a new-born child. That child is at the dawn of history. He has the entire process to repeat. He is at best an animal with the promise of human experience. His is the continent of physical life and strength.

"Food and clothing, prevention of disease, defense against neglect by parents or society, the meaning and value of fresh air, bathing, the care of eyes, teeth and muscles, the discipline of the body in exercise, restraint, mastery, skill are the new applications of education to the individual.

"But these things are not the supreme possessions. There is still another continent ahead. Moral ideals wait to be appraised and won. Honor, truthfulness, manners, virtue, freedom, power belong to this broader realm. And religion is there, the knowledge of God, the hatred of sin, the interpretation of suffering, and the sense of eternity are all there. And no life is complete, no education sufficient, that does not give them place and room.

DISEASES OF WOMEN AND OSTEOPATHY

(State Educational Bureau.)

As far back as history carries us we find mentioned certain diseases peculiar to women.

Instruments have been found, such as sounds and various forms of speculа, which indicate that uterine diseases were recognized and that attempts were made to correct them.

Within the last decade the treatment of diseases of women has developed into a science distinctly surgical, when viewed from the standpoint of the abdominal surgeon or so-called specialist. All chronic conditions are looked upon as surgical and such operations as curettage, ovariotomy or some form of Laparotomy is performed for the most trivial ailments, while in some the operation is performed as an experiment or for the purpose of diagnosis. "A Woman Was Not Made to Be Maimed by Useless Surgical Experiments."

The Basic Principle of osteopathy in general is, that a perfectly adjusted body is necessary to health; and that a perfect adjustment of the parts concerned in the formation of the female reproductive organs is necessary to their perfect functioning; this perfect adjustment means health.

These theories have been put into practice by osteopathic physicians and proven beyond successful contradiction.

The osteopathic idea depends on proper adjustment of both the internal organs of generation and the bony framework in which they are located. Any displacement of either, and especially the latter, tends to interfere with the normal nerve and blood force. Pure blood is moving blood and it cannot be pure and be stagnant at the same time. If the blood circulates properly, Health Must Ensue.

This new feature in the treatment of diseases of women stands today as most advanced, most effective, with more remarkable results to date, and with greater possibilities from further investigation and use, than all other therapeutic measures known. It frequently occurs, on first discovery of some rapid aggressive developments of ovarian congestion or abscess, immediate operation seems inevitable and the condition of the patient so grave as to give apprehension as to the result. At this period of such attacks, osteopathic treatment has been given. When properly applied it acts as a specific, and immediate relief in a majority of cases, surgical intervention being unnecessary.

AN OLD RECIPE TO DARKEN HAIR

Sage Tea and Sulphur Turns Gray, Faded Hair Dark and Glossy.

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray; also ends dandruff, itching scalp and stops falling hair. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is mussy and troublesome.

Nowadays we simply ask at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You will get a large bottle for about 50 cents. Everybody uses this old, famous recipe, because no one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy and you look years younger.—Advertisement.

CHICAGO GRAIN AND PROVISIONS.

Chicago, Oct. 28.—Reports of the resignation of the French premier had a bearish effect today on wheat. Opening prices, which varied from unchanged figures to ¼@⅝c down, were followed by a material setback all around.

The close was firm, ⅝@1⅛c net higher.

Enlarged rural offerings weakened the corn market. After opening ⅛c to ⅜c lower, the market underwent a moderate additional sag.

The close was steady, ¼@⅜c off to ¼c up, compared with yesterday's finish.

Oats eased off with other grain.

Provisions declined after a little show of firmness at the start.

THE DAY ON WALL STREET.

New York, Oct. 28.—Further liquidation of specialties featured today's early dealings, with declines of one to over three points in Baldwin Locomotive, Studebaker Maxwell motors common and second preferred and Lackawanna Steel. There was increased pressure against U. S. Steel on an initiative of 2,500 shares at 84¼ to 84½, against yesterday's close of 84⅞. American Woolen rose three to 56 on announcement of another large war contract, and Coppers made further improvement, Anaconda advancing 1½ to the new record of 79⅝. Canadian Pacific was the foremost rail, rising 1¼ to 175.

The collapse of the French cabinet gave fresh point to peace rumors and was made the occasion of a vigorous bear drive, together with liquidation. Studebaker dropped 11½ to 168, Bethlehem Steel preferred ten to 170, and Baldwin 7¼ to 125. Other specialties were lower by two to five points. Steel was again singled out for attack, yielding to 83⅝ in the face of heavy selling. Rails were moderately lower at first but showed marked heaviness later. Bonds were steady.

Lowest prices were made in the last hour, some specialties showing acute weakness, but the railroads developed all around strength. The closing was irregular.

WEATHER CONDITIONS.

The pressure continues low along the northern border, with a low center over Lake Superior and another over Alberta. It is also low in southern Florida. An area of high pressure overlies the middle Atlantic states, and another of greater intensity covers the plateau region. This distribution of pressure has given temperatures higher than the seasonal average over the greater portion of the country. During the last twenty-four hours temperatures have risen in the Mississippi valley and in the western and central portions of the lake region. The weather is cooler in the Atlantic coast states, and locally in the Dakotas and Wyoming. The rainfall of the last twenty-four hours was unimportant.

DAN LUNG FINED ON A GAMBLING CHARGE

Two Others Tried on Complaint of William Ormsby Freed.

After a hearing in two installments, one of them early in the week, the gambling charges brought by William Ormsby against Fred Rosselot, jr., Daniel Lung and Charles Dull were brought to a conclusion in the city court Thursday morning. On a charge of gambling Lung was fined $20 and costs, Rooselot was found not guilty of keeping a gambling house and Dull was given an indefinite continuance on a similar charge. Ormsby had complained to the police that he was beaten out of $8 in a pool game by Lung in the poolroom attached to the Rosselot saloon on Barr street. Lung admitted playing pool with Ormsby, but denied that any money was staked on the games. Rosselot stated that he had nothing to do with the poolroom, it being in charge of Lung. Dull is employed by Lung in the poolroom.

Carmody Had a Weapon.

Jim Carmody, who has been many times arrested by the police and fined in the city court on various charges and who is regarded as an all-round bad character, was arraigned Thursday morning on a charge of carrying concealed weapons. He was arrested about daylight by Patrolman Charles Eisenhut, who found a loaded revolver of small caliber on Carmody. Officer Eisenhut was informed Wednesday night that Carmody was drunk and armed, but failed to find him. Knowing the man's habits he watched for him at daylight and picked James off when he emerged from his bunk to get his morning's morning. The case was continued until Friday and Carmody went to jail for want of $100 bond.

Was Motoring While Drunk.

John Jones was the name given by a motorist who was arrested Wednesday evening by Night Station Master Fred Fry for driving an automobile while drunk. He pleaded guilty by his attorney and was fined $50 and costs, which was paid. Jones drove his car crashing into the rear of George Bailhe's car at the Bailhe residence, 912 Lake avenue, and caused considerable damage. He said he did not see the Bailhe car because there were no lights on it. Jones was unmistakably drunk and fragments of beer bottles about the wreckage indicated that he had a cargo of refreshments aboard when the collision took place.

Other City Court Cases.

Marion Ashley, charged with drunkenness, was continued until November 6 and sent to jail in default of $100 bond. He appeared at the police station Wednesday night very drunk and on the verge of tremens and asked to be locked up for his own protection. He came here from Toledo.

Ed Wilson, a drunk, was turned loose, as were Frank Reed and Frank Howard, two vags.

HOUSECLEANER KEEPS CHANGE.

Mr. Holmes, of 408 Kinnaird avenue, reports to police headquarters that a man giving the name of Harry Burg and his place of residence on Superior street, was employed as a housecleaner at the Holmes residence, Wednesday, and when the day was done was given a $10 bill to get changed that he might be paid. The man failed to return and the police are asked to look for him.

CANDY STOCK LOOTED.

A. Anthony, who runs a confectionery wagon on the streets, reports that the building at 430 East Wayne street, where he keeps his stock, was entered by thieves who carried away about $40 worth of his candies.

CORNER HAS BECOME "HOODOO" FOR AUTOS

Events that have transpired at Washington and Harrison streets the past three evenings have brought people to believe that this street corner has become a "hoodoo" for automobiles and unless drivers use the greatest precautions at this place it seems probable that a serious accident may occur.

Monday evening about 11 o'clock a Ford touring car driven by a lady, skidded around the corner, jumped the curbing on the west side of Harrison, and was abandoned because a front wheel had been broken.

Tuesday evening a large Overland auto fared a similar misfortune, this time a rear wheel being broken. Wednesday evening another large five-passenger touring car broke a rear axle when the machine skidded around the corner and struck the curbing.

All three accidents occurred between 10 and 11:30 o'clock, shortly after the street flusher had passed over the streets.

Early Thursday two large seven-passenger touring cars suffered the same fate at the same crossing.

20 DIE IN SCHOOL FIRE

FLAMES SNUFF OUT LIVES OF CHILDREN

Fire Sweeps Parochial School at Peabody, Mass., and Wild Panic of 700 Pupils Ensues --Score of Young Folk Burned or Crushed to Death in Five Brief Minutes---Fear Other Bodies May Yet Be Discovered in Ruins—Heart-rending Scenes Attend Catastrophe.

Peabody, Mass., Oct. 28.—Twenty pupils of the St. John's parochial school lost their lives in a fire that, starting in the basement a few minutes after the morning session had opened today, swept through the three stories of the brick and wooden school building in less than five minutes.

Nineteen of the boys and girls, none of whom were out of their teens, were burned or crushed to death while attempting to escape. A score of others were injured, some dangerously. Of the latter one, Mildred Mead, aged 16, died after having been removed to a hospital.

The bodies of the dead were frightfully burned and of the nineteen at the morgue only two, Elizabeth Nolan, aged 17, and Mary Sullivan, 16, both members of the senior class, had been identified this afternoon. Other bodies were believed to be in the ruins and it was thought that twenty-five had been killed or fatally injured.

There were 700 children in the building when the fire started. Its origin is in doubt. Angus McDonald, of the state police, thinks it originated in a closet near the stairway and was caused by a hot air explosion.

Mother Superior Sounds Alarm.

Mother Superior Aidgeon, who was in charge of the pupils, heard an explosion and detecting smoke sounded the alarm. There were no fire escapes on the building, but wide stairways at either end of the interior led down to the front exit. Under fire drill discipline the little ones were marched through constantly thickening clouds of smoke to the ground floor, when the leaders lost their heads.

Instead of passing out the rear exit, according to a rule, they made a dash for the front door and became jammed in the vestibule. Meantime the fire had eaten its way upward from directly under the front entrance and the vestibule crowded with pupils, presently was enveloped in flames.

Many reached the open and others were dropped from second and third-story windows or dragged out of the windows on the ground floor.

Goes Back After Brothers.

Catherine M. O'Connell, 13, was among the first to escape, but when she got outside and found that her two little brothers were missing she broke away from the crowd and ran back into the building. The brothers were afterward reported safe, but no trace of Catherine could be found after the fire had burned itself out.

Genevieve Phillips, one of those who escaped, said: "There was no confusion and everything went smoothly until we came to a point half way down the stairs between the first and second floors. Looking down over the heads of the children ahead we saw a terrible scene. The younger children from the first floor were piled up in front of the doorway. The sisters were doing their best to get the children through the doors.

CARRIES AMERICAN NOTE TO ENGLAND

Kirk to Deliver Protest Against Interference With Commerce.

Washington, Oct. 28.—The American note to Great Britain protesting against British interference with neutral commerce is on its way to London by special messenger. It is being carried by Alexander W. Kirk, third secretary of the American embassy at Berlin who is returning to his post. He will deliver the communication to Ambassador Page next Monday for presentation to the British foreign office.

The note, which is a lengthy document, is in answer to the several notes received from Great Britain in the last few months on the subject of interference with American trade. It covers all phases of the matter before and after the order in council, or so-called blockade, was put into effect.

The delay in the dispatch of the note had been due to President Wilson's desire not to complicate the situation with the controversy with Germany over her submarine warfare.

WHOLESALE GROCERS IN SOCIAL SESSION

Thirty-five wholesale grocers from southern Michigan, northern Ohio and Indiana held a get-together meeting Thursday at the Commercial club. A banquet was served at the noon hour after which matters pertaining to the wholesale grocery business were discussed by the various representatives in attendance. Short addresses were delivered by B. F. Persons, of Evansville, president of the Indiana Wholesale Grocers' association, and P. H. Hill, of Greenville, Ohio, president of the Ohio Wholesale Grocers' association.

RAILROAD MUST SELL ITS COAL INTERESTS

Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 28.—The United States district court today decreed that the ownership of the Lehigh and Wilkesbarre Coal company and the Central Railroad company, of New Jersey, is combination in restraint of trade and that the Central company must dispose of its interest in that concern. The decree filed today is on the decision of the court last June in the government anti-trust suit against the Reading company, Jersey Central and others. The court at that time suggested that the Lehigh and Wilkesbarre company be divorced from the Jersey Central.

MYSTIFIED BY GERARD VISIT

Washington Does Not Understand His Confab With German Emperor.

MAY HAVE SECURED BERLIN PEACE VIEW

In Any Event, It Has Given Rise to Great Deal of Speculation.

Washington, Oct. 28.—Ambassador Gerard's recent conference with Emperor William is causing much speculation in official quarters here. Secretary Lansing stated that the ambassador had not been directed to visit the emperor and that no report of the conference had been received.

It is generally presumed that on the return of the emperor to Potsdam the ambassador made an informal visit in the interest of German-American relations. The satisfactory settlement of the Arabic case gives ground for the belief that the ambassador might have sought the emperor's view on several diplomatic questions which have been held in abeyace owing to the submarine controversy.

Germany's View on Peace?

The possibility that Emperor William might have taken advantage of the opportunity to express to Ambassador Gerard Germany's views on peace was generally talked of here today, particularly as a consequence of the reports that Germany intended soon to make known the basis on which she would make peace.

Reports that Prince von Buelow, former German chancellor and ambassador to Italy, was to visit King Alfonso of Spain and later the United States have attracted much attention here because of the belief that he might be entrusted with the task of expressing Germany's viewpoint.

President Wilson has made it clear that until one of the belligerents indicated plainly a desire to accept mediation there would be no initiative on the part of the American government. The fact that King Alfonso of Spain is mentioned as a mediator is regarded here as significant because for some time it has been indicated that the king of Spain was desirous of acting in harmony with President Wilson when the time for making peace arrives.

PICTURE SHOW MEN BROUGHT TO COURT

Four Are Charged With Violations of the Child Labor Laws.

On affidavits filed by Nelson A. Kyser, a state factory inspector, four proprietors of moving picture theaters were brought into the city court Thursday morning on charges of violating the child labor laws of Indiana by having in their employ boys under 16 years of age. The cases were as follows:

Oscar E. Wobrock, Lyric theater, for employing Jesse Hettmeyer, aged 14 years.

J. P. Mallot, Grand theater, for employing Clarence Gutermuth, aged 14 years.

That the defendants all expect to make defense against the charges was indicated by pleas of not guilty. All say they supposed the lads employed by them were of legal age to be so employed. Because Inspector Kyser was obliged to leave the city Thursday morning and was not able to bring all of his witnesses into court, a continuance was taken until next Thursday and the defendants were allowed to go on their own recognizance.

Inspector Kyser, who has prosecuted violations of the child labor laws in Fort Wayne on other occasions, had been in the city for several days investigating conditions.

ONE GARIBALDI IS WOUNDED IN BATTLE

Milan, Oct. 28.—Ezee Garibaldi, one of the five sons of Gen. Ricciotti Garibaldi and a grandson of Garibaldi, the Italian liberator, has been seriously wounded, the Ecole states, in battle near Coularca.

A bullet entered his chest and perforated a lung. His father and mother have gone to Venice to be with him at the hospital where he was taken.

Two of the five sons of Gen. Ricciotti Garibaldi have been killed in the war. With their brothers they enlisted in the famous Alpine brigade once commanded by their grandfather which went to the French front last year. They met death in eastern France. When Italy entered the war the French government released the Alpine brigade which returned to join the Italian army. On Aug. 26 Ezee was wounded in the face while fighting the Austrians.

Ninety-three telephone operators and managers, representing thirty-two companies in northeastern Indiana and northwestern Ohio, attended the meeting held under the auspices of the Northeaster Indiana Telephone association, Thursday, at the Commercial club.

Over one hundred teachers left Wednesday afternoon.

As a result of the state meeting every school in Allen county will be closed till Monday morning, with the exception of the kindergartens and those rooms whose teachers will attend the meeting to be held next spring, affording the scholars a four days' vacation. There will be no night classes Thursday or Friday evenings at the vocational school.

ONE SECTION IS HELD BAD

Fee Provision in State-Wide Primary Law is Overturned.

OTHER PROVISIONS NOT INVALIDATED

New Albany, Ind., Oct. 28.—With one exception of one section, No. 13, of the new primary law, in regard to the payment of fees by candidates for office, the constitutionality of the law passed by the last general assembly was upheld in an opinion delivered by Judge J. M. Paris, in the Floyd circuit court. The suit to test the law was filed by Charles D. Kelso, an attorney of this city, the defendants being Homer L. Cook, secretary of state; A. V. Johnson, clerk of Floyd county, and Julian T. Miller, county auditor.

Mr. Kelso sought an injunction to restrain the defendants from carrying out the provisions of the law. In the argument before Judge Paris last week the state was represented by Evan B. Stotsenburg, of this city; Abram Simmons, of Bluffton, and Leslie B. Naftzger, assistant in the office of R. M. Milburn, attorney general. Mr. Kelso was assisted by Addison C. Harris, of Indianapolis. The opinion of Judge Paris covered twenty-four type written pages.

Fee Section Held Bad.

The court held the section in regard to the payment of fees unconstitutional because he said it is "unreasonable, unequal and not uniform." The court quoted from decisions to show that there can be no discrimination between candidates based on the ground that one has money to pay the privilege of being a candidate and chooses to pay and another has not the means or is unwilling to pay the privilege. The court cites a number of cases in other states in which the assessment of fees has been held to be legal, but he adds that in most of these cases it will be found that the fee charged was uniform and without reference to salary.

Does Not Affect Remainder.

In deciding that the invalidity of the fee section of the law does not invalidate the entire law, the court quotes a decision to show it is well settled that when a part of a statute is unconstitutional, if by striking from the act all parts which is void, that which is left is complete in itself, sensible, capable of being executed and wholly independent of the other which is rejected, the courts will reject that which is unconstitutional and enforce the remainder.

The court points out that ample provision is made for the payment of all expenses incident to the holding of such primary, although the provisions as to fees are held invalid.

Two Other Sections.

Two other sections of the primary law came up for special consideration in the case before Judge Paris—the section providing qualifications for persons offering to vote at the primary and the section providing for first and second choice voting. In holding that both of these sections of the law are valid the court quoted decisions to show that a primary is not an election, such as is contemplated by the constitution but is a party nominating device.

The court holds that under the broad power given to the general assembly of Indiana by the constitution the general assembly has full and ample power to enact a party primary law of the character of the one at issue.

VARNA TARGET OF RUSS GUNS

Czar's Fleet Attacks the Black Sea Coast of Bulgaria.

NISH NOW NEARLY ENCIRCLED BY FOES

Teutonic Invaders Making Still Further Progress in Serbia.

Today's War News Given in Summary

The Viviani ministry in France resigned today and former premier, Aristide Briand, has been asked to form a new cabinet. It is understood that M. Viviani will remain in the cabinet as minister of justice.

A Russian fleet anchored off the Bulgarian Black sea coast yesterday and began bombardment of Varna, according to a news agency dispatch from Bucharest. Varna is one of the points at which it has been assumed Russia might attempt to land troops for an invasion of Bulgaria.

Today's official statement from Berlin on the Serbian campaign announces a closing in on Nish by the Bulgarians, who have crossed the Tiok over a large front and captured Zajecar and Kniajevats, northwest of Pirot, which lies about 35 miles east of Nish. Further advances have been scored by the Teutonic forces that have fought their way well into Serbian territory from the northern boundaries, the Berlin war office statement declares.

On the front in Russia, the Germans report the repulse of Russian attacks on positions recently taken by Field Marshal von Hindenburg, in the Dvinsk region, and an advance for Gen. von Linsingen in the southern theater, where Rudka, west of Czartorysk, has been taken.

A marked increase in recruiting in Great Britain attributed largely by British newspapers to King George's appeal and the execution in Belgian of Miss Edith Cavell is reported.

Rome, Oct. 28.—A Bucharest dispatch to the Stefani News agency, filed yesterday, says that the Russians have begun an attack on the Black sea coast of Bulgaria.

"A Russian fleet arrived at 4 o'clock this morning on the Bulgarian coast," the correspondent wires, "and immediately began a bombardment of Varna. Shelling was still proceeding at 11 o'clock. Considerable damage has been done to the town."

Varna is one of the chief Black sea ports of Bulgaria. It has been reported on several occasions since Russia decided to proceed against Bulgaria, that she would attempt to send troops from Odessa to invade Bulgaria. It was assumed that if such an attempt would be made Varna would be selected as the point of attack. It was reported unofficially on October 7 that Varna had been bombarded by Russian cruisers.

PUSHING FURTHER SOUTHWARD.

Teutonic Invasion of Serbia Continues to Make Gains.

Berlin, Oct. 28.—The Austro-German invasion of Serbia has been pushed further to the south. Army headquarters announced today that further ground had been gained, and that the army of Gen. Gallwitz had taken 2,033 prisoners since Oct. 33.

Repulse of Russian attacks in the Dvinsk region and near the central part of the line in the east, as well as a success for Gen. von Linsingen's troops in the southern sector are recorded in today's official statement. Field Marshal von Hindenburg's army has repulsed Russian attacks made against

Lemuel Papazian, 613 Washington boulevard, east, is in receipt of a letter from Solphia S. Holt, who has recently returned from Turkey, where she served as a missionary, telling him that his father, Simon Papazian, has been exiled by the Turks, together with hundreds of other Armenians. She writes that the Armenians were terribly beaten and tortured. Special favor, however, she says, was shown to Protestants, as they were the last to be sent.

"Your father came to me and begged me to loan him some money," she writes. "He said you would pay me back. Will you therefore kindly send me $4.40." Papazian has not heard from his father in many months.

Simple Life Urged by Girls Making Canvass

Mary and Martha Adams are making a house to house canvass in Fort Wayne expounding a religion of simplicity. They arrived in the city Wednesday, coming from Decatur over the Fort Wayne & Springfield traction line.

On the car they attracted no little attention, greeting every passenger with a sincere God bless you. Their coats were black, cut on loose lines, and their simplicity unmarred by any ornamentation. A bonnet completed the costume.

The sect they represent was founded by a young woman in Chicago, being a combination of new thought and the simpler life. Its exponents work part of the time at ordinary work, then teach from house to house, finding their earnings are sufficient to keep them the whole year, because they do without so many things.

The two women enjoyed breakfast Wednesday morning right on the car, which always consists of raisins and peanuts. Of the former they allow themselves a half pound a day, besides several apples, bread and butter, and whole wheat cooked, after it has been washed and soaked, preferably for the noon meal. When they are traveling the wheat is eaten uncooked.

Followers of the new religion are required to sleep in the open air, either on sleeping porches or beneath the broad roof of heaven. No pay is accepted for anything except in cases where it can be afforded for the actual cost of medicines. Worldly pleasures except that of outdoor recreation are forbidden.

RABBI WHO HAS COME TO TAKE CHARGE OF B'NAI JACOB CONGREGATION.

RABBI E. SPIVACK.

To hold otherwise, he says, would be to conclude that there is some reserve power in the people which would prevent such enactment by the legislature. No such reservation, the court says, can be found in the constitution.

As to "All Elections."

In the opinion of the court the phrase, "all elections" as used in the constitution means only elections at which electors of the state or subdivisions are entitled to vote. The court quotes many decisions to show that such primaries are not in reality elections but mere nominating devices, and that they are valuable auxiliaries to good government and are regulated by legislative enactment for the public welfare. Judge Paris points out that the plaintiff in argument, conceded it would be lawful to provide that an elector should be required to state his politics and to promise to vote his party ticket at the coming election. The court doubts whether this provision alone would prevent persons not entitled to vote from voting in a primary.

"The venal voter," he says, "the one for whom such provisions are made, would not hesitate to state that he was affiliated with the party whose ticket he should be proposing to vote."

First and Second Choice.

Many cases, the court says, have been cited supporting the right o. the legislature to safeguard voting at the primary elections by requiring additional qualifications and one has been cited to the contrary. After quoting from various decisions, the court in discussing the first and second choice voting provisions of the primary law says:

"In the absence of any provision in the state constitution to the contrary the court is of the opinion that such a method of nomination is permissible and such seems to be the holding in other courts where the question has been raised as appears from the last citation. Indeed, in Indiana the legislature has provided a method of nomination other than by the votes of qualified electors."

ing dragged along in the crush. Some of the children, most of them under seven years, were struggling to keep their feet. The sisters were working frantically to rescue those who had fallen, but the task was almost a hopeless one.

"A small cloud of smoke was drifting through the doorway over the heads of the struggling, hysterical little children and it seemed that the smoke was coming from the basement doorway. Many of us were able to go around the side of the throng at the doorway and into the schoolroom at the side of the floor hallway. From the windows of this schoolroom we jumped to the ground."

The students, who ranged in years from seven to thirteen, were in charge of sixteen sisters. When the fire broke out the sisters marshalled their charges as for a fire drill and started them from the building. The processions were orderly until those from the third floor joined others pouring from the classrooms on the second floor.

Wild Panic Ensues.

Suddenly there was a cry of fear from one of the throng. It was taken up by a hundred others and panic ensued. The sisters made frantic efforts to stop the pushing, struggling mass, but to no purpose.

The smaller children fell under the feet of those behind them and soon the vestibule was so jammed with living and dead that the firemen could not force an entrance. The sixteen sisters escaped.

Due to Explosion.

The flames, it is supposed, started in the basement and according to some were caused by the explosion of a steam boiler from which the building was heated. There is doubt, however, as to the exact origin of the fire.

A large percentage of the pupils were children of foreign parentage. In the number were many of Irish and Italian descent. The firemen fought the fire from ladders raised to the windows while the police cleared the vestibule.

Burned Beyond Recognition.

The bodies of the dead generally were burned beyond recognition. Mary Leeds and Marion Hayes were found in the crush badly burned but alive and were removed to a hospital.

St. John's parochial school stands on Chestnut street, near St. John's Catholic church and the home of Rev. Nicholas Murphy, the pastor. Opposite is St. John's convent.

The first alarm brought a hundred distracted mothers to the school yard, where soon they were joined by other relatives of the pupils until the building was surrounded by a great crowd of hysterical men and women who rushed the police lines in a wild effort to reach their children.

Police Were Powerless.

The police were powerless to stop the rush, but what they failed to do was accomplished presently by the flames which, shooting from the windows of the building, held back the unhappy throng.

Killed or Injured in Jumping.

The children were driven from their rooms and many sought to escape by the windows and were killed or injured in jumping. Neighbors rushed to the scene and held coats and blankets while the children leaped into them.

The heaviest loss of life was at the front door where the stairway leading to the upper floors became choked with frantic children. Many were trampled under foot and overcome with smoke. Firemen were unable to push their way through the crush and were forced to fight the fire from ladders.

The dead, it was said, might reach fifty. Sisters of the school declared that many of the children on the upper floors had been unable to escape and had undoubtedly lost their lives.

More than 600 pupils under 16 years of age were at their desks when there was an explosion, apparently in the boiler room.

Flames Sweep Rapidly.

The flames swept through the building which was a three story structure, almost before the children could get out of their rooms. The stairways were filled with smoke and flames, and while the sisters tried to send the children out by the usual fire drill, the onrush of the flames caused a panic.

As soon as firemen broke through one of the rear doors they found two bodies, both badly burned. Two more were found just inside the door and two others on the stairway. Fifty feet across the yard was the convent in which 100 nuns resided. The firemen prevented the flames from jumping across the yard.

The St. John's school building was built of brick with a wooden interior. It was heated by steam from a large boiler in the basement. The fire under the boiler had been started up early this morning and it is understood there was a fairly good head of steam on when the session opened. The school was the largest one in the city and ordinarily had an attendance of more than 600 girls and boys.

The school building was erected a few years ago at a cost of about $100,000. It was square shaped with wood fittings lining the interior of the brick frame. There were sixteen class rooms in three floors. At each end of the building wooden stairways led down from the two upper floors. The head of the school is Mother Superior Sister Aldegon, who was assisted by fifteen sisters.

Detected Odor of Smoke.

The mother superior detected the odor of smoke a few minutes after the school children appeared. She immediately sounded an alarm which started the children to the street. According to the version of the sisters, the pupils were marching out in an orderly manner until the leaders who had reached the ground floor made the mistake of rushing into the vestibule at the front exit instead of going out at the rear door as they had been trained to do. This caused confusion among those who followed and congestion in the vestibule.

Flames Reach Stairway.

Meanwhile the flames had reached the stairways and caught the struggling children. Within five minutes flames were shooting from all the windows and exits. The local firemen, unable to control the blaze, summoned aid from Salem, Danvers and Marblehead, but this came too late.

Policemen and firemen bent their energies chiefly to pulling children from doors and windows. The mother superior dropped 25 of her charges from a window on the second floor and they were caught in overcoats and blankets improvised as fire nets.

Two hours after the blaze started twenty bodies had been taken from the ruins and others were being sought.

No Fire Escapes.

There were no fire escapes on the outside of the building.

Deeds of heroism were not wanting. Among such incidents was the act of Maurice Harris, aged 10 years, who carried his one-legged chum, Thomas O'Shea, 8 years old, on his back down the smoke-choked stairways to safety.

At noon only two of the bodies, those of Lizzie Nolan, aged 17 years, and Mary Sullivan, 16, had been identified. Both girls were to have been graduated this year.

The origin of the fire remained in doubht. Michael Dunn, who lives near the school, said he heard a muffled explosion in the school building just before it was enveloped in flames.

Steam Boiler Intact.

When the ruins had cooled sufficiently to permit it, Building Inspector A. H. McDonald and W. S. Murret, of the state police, made their way for a few feet into the basement and later reported that the steam boiler, which was reported to have exploded, was intact.

Joseph Donahue, the engineer of the building, declared the blaze could not have originated from the boiler. He said that he had banked his fire before he left it at 8 o'clock this morning.

CLUB POLLS CLOSE ON A BITTER FIGHT

Indianapolis, Oct. 28.—The most important part of today's program of the convention of the Indiana Federation of Clubs at the Claypool hotel was the election of officers. The bitter fight that has bee nwaged for the last several weeks in the campaign for president of the federation culminated today when the delegates cast their votes for teh two candidates, Mrs. L. J. Cox, of Terre Haute, and Mrs. Clark Fairbank, of Fort Wayne.

The polls were opened at 9 o'clock and will remain open until 3 o'clock. The voting is by the Australian ballot system. Only those delegates that have filed their credentials accrediting them from their clubs to the federation convention are permitted to vote. Strict rules were announced to govern the balloting.

The tellers will count the ballots after the polls have closed this afternoon and the result of the election will be announced at the closing session of the convention tomorrow morning.

Reports of committees were to occupy much of the time today in the convention.

After the nominations had been made yesterday the name of Mrs. Leon Stern, of Terre Haute, nominated for second vice president, was stricken from the ticket. It was found that the bylaws of the organization do not permit two officers from the same district, with the exception of the president and recording secretary. The nominations had been made at the morning session, Mrs. L. J. Cox, of Terre Haute, and Mrs. Clark Fairbank, of Fort Wayne, being the only two women nominated for the presidency, the "dark horse" prophesies failing to materialize.

When the question was raised about two officers being from the same district, Miss Vida Newsom, the president, ruled that the constitution did provide against the two officers involved coming from the same district, and that as Mrs. Cox had been nominated before Mrs. Stern, Mrs. Stern would have to give way in favor of the presidential nominee.

Fairbank Coup is Seen.

It was reported about the convention that the nomination of Mrs. Stern was an attempt by the supporters of Mrs. Fairbank to draw votes away from the Terre Haute candidate for the presidency and thus increase the chances of Mrs. Fairbank.

Another surprise developed when Dr. Amelia R. Keller, of Indianapolis, left her name on the ticket for first vice president to succeed herself. It had been generally understood that Dr. Keller would not again accept the office and when her name was proposed she at first declined, but upon being urged by friends she reconsidered, thus running in opposition to another Indianapolis woman, Mrs. E. C. Rumpler, as well as Mrs. W. W. Reed, of Warsaw.

SAYS STORY IS FALSE.

Sheriff A. C. Gladieux and Dan Current, one of his deputies, emphatically deny the truth of charges made by Thomas Morgan, 1434 Broadway, that the deputy permitted the nine jail prisoners of whom he had charge on the Maysville road, where the prisoners were employed making repairs, to get drunk on hard cider procured from a farm house near by. The deputy says the men had been using a jug to get drinking water in and that when he discovered that some cider had been obtained he put a stop ot it. Frank Duffy and William Kirby, two of the prisoners, sulked when they could get no more cider, says Deputy Current, and refused to work, whereupon they were returned to jail and disciplined.

PRESENTS A MEMORIAL.

Van Wert, Ohio, Oct. 28.—In memory of his grandfather, Jacob Hines, who organized the first Sunday school class in Van Wert, Dr. J. A. Hines, of East Main street, has presented a beautiful bronze tablet to the First M. E. church of this city. The inscription on the tablet is as follows:

In Memory of
Jacob Hines
Who Organized the First
Sunday School Class
In Van Wert, 1840.
Presented to the First
M. E. Church by His
Grandson, Dr. J. A. Hines.

Jacob Hines, who was then a resident of Washington, D. C., came to the city to visit his son, P. J. Hines, father of Dr. J. A. Hines, and while here he organized the first Sunday school class, with the assistance of Abel Strother, who was a former prominent trustee of the First M. E. church in this city. The class was held in the old court house, which stood on the site of the present building. The tablet will be placed in the main auditorium of the church. The location has not yet been decided but a committee of the trustees will be appointed to definitely locate the memorial.

FIND BROTHER AFTER 20 YEARS.

Noble County Women Go to Kokomo to Reunite With Long-Absent Kin.

Avilla, Ind., Oct. 28.—Miss Rhoda Moore, who resides with Mr. and Mrs. Timothy Gaby at Brimfield, and her sister, Miss Isabel Moore, residing with Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Hill, in Jefferson township, went to Kokomo yesterday to meet their brother, Rev. Otto Moore, aged twenty-four years. The three orphan children became separated about twenty years ago, and but for a faint recollection Miss Rhoda had of her brother, and the untiring efforts of her friends, the brother's whereabouts to them, would have remained a mystery. Edwin Smith, of Green township, took an interest in the search for the brother and wrote to Gov. Ralston, who referred him to Frank Fisher, business manager of the orphan's home at Mexico, Indiana. It was found that Otto had been adopted by a family named Morrow. He passed through the grades, graduated from high school and entered DePau university, from which institution he graduated with honors as a minister of the gospel.

TO RECEIVE STATE OFFICIALS.

Huntington, Ind., Oct. 28.—Although Governor Samuel M. Ralston has not yet fixed a particular date in November when he will come to Huntington as a guest of the Huntington Commercial association and to deliever an address, it is understood that tentative plans are fast being developed by the committee of the association. Besides extending the invitation to Governor and Mrs. Samuel M. Ralston, it is the purpose of the committee to also urge the attendance of Clerk of the Supreme Court J. Fred France and Mrs. France, Public Service Commissioner and Mrs. Charles A. Edwards, Superintendent of Public Instruction Charles A. Greathouse and Mrs. Greathouse, as well as other state and federal officials.

TO BE FINISHED BY SPRING.

Van Wert, Ohio, Oct. 28.—Work on the new Y. W. C. A. and hospital buildings is steadily going forward. The four ton girders for the roof of the gymnasium of the Y. W. C. A. were put in place Tuesday. Work on the concrete roof will be commenced the latter part of the week. The steel for the roofing has already arrived. The huge steel girders for the floors and walls of the hospital are being awaited by the contractors. The work on both buildings will be completed by the opening of spring. The excellent weather of the last few weeks has given the contractors an opportunity to push the outside work so that the building may be enclosed before winter.

TRAFFIC MANAGER RESIGNS.

Lagrange, Ind., Oct. 28.—W. H. Ogborn, who has been traffic manager on the Valley Line for the past few months has resigned to accept a similar position on the South Shore line, one of the biggest interurban systems in the country, with headquarters at Michigan City. Mr. Ogborn has just recently moved his family here from Chicago, and they like LaGrange very much, but the offer of the new position carries opportunities which Mr. Ogborn could not afford to reject.

TWO HOOSIER COUPLES ELOPE.

Hillsdale, Mich., Oct. 28.—Rev. Louis DeLarmarter, pastor of the Methodist church here, has just married two eloping couples from Indiana. Carl G. Grill and Miss Cora A. Radabaugh, both of Auburn, were the first pair, and William H. Hower, of Bluffton, and Miss Opal G. Williams, of Randolph county, were the second. Both ceremonies took place at the parsonage.

BURNED BY EXPLODING METAL.

Bluffton, Ind., Oct. 28.—John Falk, a well known resident of West Market street, narrowly escaped painful burns in an explosion of hot babbit metal this morning, during some work on a machine with which he has been experimenting for several years. Mr. Falk was trying this morning to babbit a bearing in the device and used a half of a raw potato to make one end of the mold. When the hot metal struck the potato the water in the tuber evaporated into steam and a small geyser of molten metal was the immediate result. Mr. Falk received the metal on his clothing and beard, but fortunately none of it reached his eyes.

HIT BY STRAY BULLET.

Pierceton, Ind., Oct. 28.—Kenneth Helfrich, of Pierceton, the fourteen year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Helfrich, who have resided in Minnesota for the past two years, was accidentally struck by a stray bullet, the ball passing through the flesh of his leg between the knee and the hip. The wound is not considered dangerous unless blood poisoning should set in, which is not at all probable. There is considerable mystery about the affair. Some of the relatives are inclined to believe that he accidentally shot himself, but he denies that he did and insists that he was riding along the road on his bicycle when the bullet struck him.

SEARCH FOR DESERTER.

Bluffton, Ind., Oct. 28.—Those who have been conducting a search for Joseph F. Babcock, 37, who disappeared Monday morning, taking with him his little daughter, Ethel Violet, aged 2, reported this afternoon that efforts to find him and the little girl still were unavailing, and it was thought today that he probably had departed for his former home at Holland, Mich., or to the home of relatives in Ohio. Marshal Henry Fritz made a trip to the home of Mrs. Evans, a sister of Babcock, living near Monroe, Adams county, and found indisputable evidence that Babcock had been there.

FORTUNE FROM RAISING POTATOES.

Waterloo, Ind., Oct. 28.—William Myers, who lives southeast of Waterloo, is one of the most progressive farmers in the state of Indiana. He came to DeKalb county about seventeen years ago, and without any money made a start in life that has proven what one's true worth will do when applied in the right direction. He bought a farm on time, and paid for it, and since that time he has bought other tracts of land until he is now one of the largest land owners in the county. He has a fine country home, well arranged, fitted with modern convenience such as hot and cold water in the house and electric lights, and his barn is also electrically lighted, all by his own electric light plant. Mr. Myers has done it by raising potatoes, and this year he raised over seven thousand bushels of potatoes.

FIRE LOSS ON FARM.

Stroh, Ind., Oct. 28.—A grain separator belonging to Theodore Clinesmith, of this place, 100 bushels of rye and several rye stacks were destroyed by fire on the farm of Emroy White, residing three miles south of here, near Turkey Creek, entailing a loss estimated at $800. Mr. Clinesmith is the heaviest loser, his separator being valued at $500, with no insurance. The grain and rye stacks, the property of Mr. White, were also a total loss. Sparks from the engine, which set fire to the nearby stacks, was the cause of the conflagration.

NEW HOME FOR CITY CLUB.

Columbia City, Ind., Oct. 28.—The Columbia City Commercial club now has a home of its own. Henceforth the F. L. Myers hall and the rooms over the J. O. Flox store will be the headquarters for committee meetings and general assemblies of the club, and in addition to that, the beautiful room, which has for years been the most inviting and suitable place for parties, dances, corn shows and other exhibits, will be preserved for such purposes in future. A better location would be hard to find.

FINDS STRAY DEER ON FARM.

Kendallville, Ind., Oct. 28.—George W. Rendel, North Main street, emphatically declares he saw a small gray deer on his farm, two and one-half miles northeast of this city, while looking after his farm interests. Mr. Randel claims he was quite close to the animal, and when it saw him, it darted swiftly away. The animal was about three feet high and had probably wandered from the fold and got lost, never to be found by its anxious mother, perhaps many miles away.

LIBERTY CENTER WATER CLEAR.

Bluffton, Ind., Oct. 28.—Dr. A. W. Brown has received a report on the water from the well at the Roberts school in Liberty township showing the water to be fit for use. There are several cases of typhoid fever in the vicinity of the scool and it was thought that possibly the well might be the source of the disease. The school is located two miles west of Liberty Center.

Coffee contains the drug, caffeine—about 2½ grains to the cup.

Some people use coffee for years and either forget or don't know that caffeine is a cumulative poison, working away in the system, insidiously undermining and destroying health.

Some of the signs are headache, heart flutter, sleeplessness, biliousness, and various stomach, kidney and liver troubles.

But, if one values health and real comfort, and at the same time would enjoy a delicious, wholesome beverage, the thing to do is to quit coffee and use

THE SENTINEL'S DAILY SCRIPTURE READING.

Exodus 26:30-37.

30 And thou shalt rear up the tabernacle according to the fashion thereof which was shewed thee in the mount.

31 And thou shalt make a vail of blue, and purple, and scarlet, and fine twined linen of cunning work: with cherubims shall it be made:

32 And thou shalt hang it upon four pillars of shittim wood overlaid with gold: their hooks shall be of gold, upon the four sockets of silver.

33 And thou shalt hang up the vail under the taches, that thou mayest bring in thither within the vail the ark of the testimony: and the vail shall divide unto you between the holy place and the most holy.

34 And thou shalt put the mercy seat upon the ark of the testimony in the most holy place.

35 And thou shalt set the table without the vail, and the candlestick over against the table on the side of the tabernacle toward the south: and thou shalt put the table on the north side.

36 And thou shalt make an hanging for the door of the tent, of blue, and purple, and scarlet, and fine twined linen, wrought with needlework.

37 And thou shalt make for the hanging five pillars of shittim wood, and overlay them with gold, and their hooks shall be of gold: and thou shalt cast five sockets of brass for them.

Mr. Fairbanks' Chances.

Star-gazers who are surveying the political skies with a view of picking possibilities for the republican presidential nomination next year cannot fail to see significance in the plain fact that Charles Warren Fairbanks, of Indiana, is rapidly taking on the glow of first magnitude as a republican choice. Mr. Fairbanks' friends have not been making so much noise as have the adherents of other possibilities, but that the chance of the Indiana man have improved markedly of late there is no room for doubt.

Mr. Fairbanks has been lately making a campaign tour of Kentucky in the interest of the republican state ticket there, and has incidentally been doing a bit of harvesting on his own political account. It is certain that he will go into the republican convention next year not only as Indiana's "favorite son," but with the additional backing of a solid Kentucky delegation. More than that, his rank as first choice will unquestionably be further augmented from other states, while as a second choice Mr. Fairbanks has today perhaps a greater following than any of the other possibilities which have been considered.

In the extreme west there is said to be much Hughes sentiment. Borah, of course, will have his home state of Idaho behind him, Cummins will have Iowa and possibly Nebraska, Michigan will present William Alden Smith, and Senator Sherman will doubtless get the Illinois backing that a short while ago seemed certainly Mann's. There is said to be some Root sentiment, but little for Whitman, and Burton, of Ohio, is to be reckoned with. None of them today, however, have the pronounced support that can match that of Mr. Fairbanks in promise. He is easily leading the republican presidential field at this moment.

Mayor Bell has made the suggestion to wholesale liqour dealers that they put an end to the existence of some scores of "unprofitable" saloons at Indianapolis by refusing to supply them with stocks of liquor, taking the position that competition is so keen that many saloon men are tempted to violate the law in order to bolster up their receipts. Then the most natural thing in the world happened. A correspondent cards the newspapers to inquire if absolute enforcement of the way by the Indianapolis administration would not answer the same purpose in putting the saloons out of business. History seems to indicate that some administrations at Indianapolis never thought of any such remedy as that.

More than one thousand people turned out Wednesday to witness the annual contests of the Allen County Plowing association, the attendance being double that of any previous event of its kind held in the past twenty-five years. This fact indicates not only a steadily growing popular interest in agriculture, but an increasing appreciation of the fact there is an artistry in the business of farming quite as fine as in the professions with more glamour and possibly less practical utility. It is a hopeful indication when the public demonstrates a real concern in the matters of the farm.

Thomas Jefferson has just been fined $1 and costs in police court at Indianapolis on a plain drunk charge. Happily the circumstances make it improbable that the newspapers will be called upon to explain that this was not the well-known gentleman who some years ago inscribed upon parchment the deathless phrases of the Declaration of Independence. But the Jeffersons appear to be growing shockingly unmindful of the immaculateness of the family name in history.

The first substantial evidence that the late political unpleasantness is really ended has just been supplied from Lebanon, Ind., where the republicans at a recent Ninth district rally displayed portraits of both Roosevelt and Beveridge. It is difficult to question the sincerity of an olive branch like that. For the past few years the mildest manifestation of any old-line republican when he saw the halo-crowned portrait of either of these two eminent gentlemen has been to throw something suspiciously like a fit.

Joy-riders captured by a posse at Gary consisted of a motley assortment of both men and women who were not only armed but had burned one car and stolen another. Still, one naturally expects Gary folk to put some unusual emphasis and a little additional flourish on whatever they set about doing, and the joy-riders may, after all, merely have been demonstrating the Gary idea in a new form.

Count Von Bernstorff has notified the American state department that Robert Fay, alleged lieutenant in the German army now held in New York on charges of conspiracy to blow up chemical plants and munition ships, has no connection with the German secret service or the German government. Now what kind of dope do you suppose Fay has been using to supply the basis for his fanciful statements?

THE JOY OF DOING GOOD.

(Pittsburg Dispatch).

If there is joy in giving for the benefit and happiness of others, as we are told there is, half the joy must come in seeing the benefits realized. Frank H. Buhl of Sharon, surely is experiencing all that joy these days. He has spread his benefactions with lavish hand in the community in which he lives and yet has shown a wisdom not always manifested in such good works by so arranging his beneficences that they shall prove their worth and be enjoyed by all. And he is selfish enough to think he has a right to participate in the enjoyment of seeing the realization of his plans, rather than take with him a hope that his desires will be carried out.

Mr. Buhl already has done much to make life in his home town more worth the lving. He has just added to his benefactions by turning over to the people a large farm with buildings for a playground and giving an endowment so generous as to make its proper maintenance assured. Men may seek honors in fields away from home and be happy in the reward that comes to them; others may take satisfaction in the thought that once in a while they go back and give some token of their remembrance: but certainly no happiness can surpass that which comes to him who has taken a leading part in the development of his community, who shares the fortune that is his with those of his neighborhood and who has daily evidenced that the home folks are better for his having lived among them. He has learned not only the happiness of doing good, but the even greater happiness of knowing that his work will not end with him.

A DUTY TO BUILD ATTRACTIVE HOMES.

(Kansas City Star).

"It is the duty of a good citizen," Mr. R. C. Sturgis, president of the American Institute of Architects, said yesterday, "to see that the house he builds is of good material and a pleasure to the community it helps to make."

That is a view that rarely occurs to the average American. He feels that what he does in the way of house building is his own business. If he wants to build an ugly or an inappropriate style of house he thinks nobody has a right to protest.

The movement toward restricted property shows the dawning of a community sense. We are buying lots now under contracts that fix the building line, the minimum cost of the house, the place and style of the garage. That means that we recognize certain obligations to the community.

In time we must go further. We shall recognize the obligation to keep vacant property in such shape that it will not be an eyesore. If we fail in our duty here the time is coming when the city will step in and do the work and assess it against the property. We shall see that it is our duty to the city not only to build attractive houses, but to plant shrubbery and flowers and look after the lawn.

American cities, particularly in the west, are still children of the frontier. People have lived in isolation so long that they haven't yet come to realize the duties to each other involved in community life. What a transformation will come when men and women really appreciate their obligations to the city!

IF KIDNEYS AND BLADDER BOTHER

Kidney and Bladder weakness result from uric acid, says a noted authority. The kidneys filter this acid from the blood and pass it on to the bladder, where it often remains to irritate and inflame, causing a burning, scalding sensation, or setting up an irritation at the neck of the bladder, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night. The sufferer is in constant dread, the water passes sometimes with a scalding sensation and is very profuse; again, there is difficulty in avoiding it.

Bladder weakness, most folks call it, because they can't control urination. While it is extremely annoying and sometimes very painful, this is really one of the most simple ailments to overcome. Get about four ounces of Jad Salts from your pharmacist and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast, rontinue this for two or three days. This will neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation to the bladder and urinary organs which then act normally again.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is used by thousands of folks who are subject to urinary disorders caused by uric acid irritation. Jad Salts is splendid for kidneys and causes no bad effects whatever.

On this same turtle's shell are the initials of Hills' uncle, who carved them there with the date in 1877.

EVEN CROSS, SICK CHILDREN LOVE SYRUP OF FIGS

Don't scold your fretful, peevish child. See if tongue is coated; this is a sure sign its little stomach, liver and bowels are clogged with sour waste.

When listless, pale, feverish, full of cold, breath bad, throat sore, doesn't eat, sleep or act naturally, has stomach-ache, indigestion, diarrhoea, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the foul waste, the sour bile and fermenting food passes out of the bowels and you have a well and playful child again. Children love this harmless "fruit laxative," and mothers can rest easy after giving it, because it never fails to make their little "insides" clean and sweet.

Keep it handy, Mother! A little given today saves a sick child tomorrow, but get the genuine. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on the bottle. Remember there are counterfeits sold here, so surely look and see that yours is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company." Hand back with contempt any other fig syrup. —Advertisement.

What Am I? Murderer or Hero? Galacian Fugitive Asks Uncle Sam

Murderer or Hero! Fugitive from Galicia who admits slaying governor of his district and now demands to know what United States is going to do about it. Sketches show dramatic events of his life from the time of the shooting until his arrival in this country under an assumed name.

New York, Oct. 28.—"What am I in the eyes of the United States—murderer or hero?"

That is the question Miroslau Sichinsky, fugitive from Galicia, has put up to Uncle Sam through Commissioner of Immigration Frederick C. Howe, of this city.

In Galicia Sichinsky is acclaimed a hero by the little Russians, a people holding territory larger than Germany. A hero because he shot and killed the governor of Galicia on behalf of his oppressed people.

In America officials of the Austrian government hold that the act, stripped of its political aspects, is a plain case of murder, and therefore, Sichinsky can and should be extradited on such a charge.

Eight months ago Sichinsky entered this country under an assumed name. Today he reveals himself—admits slaying the Galician governor, of escaping from prison in his own country in a sensational manner, of entering this country under an alias—and now throws himself upon the mercy of the United States officials and asks "What is my status here?"

By his act he has created a situation without precedent in this country.

Sichinsky's story begins in 1908. The prologue years before, during which time Austrian officials had defrauded and oppressed and ground under an iron heel some 34,000,000 Ukrainians. The climax came in 1908, when electoral frauds became more than could be endured and the Ukrainians, through their deputies in the Galician diet, threatened an uprising.

Then it was that a delegation of students from the University of Lemberg, Sichinsky among them, called upon Count Pototsky, governor, and hated foe of the Ukrainians.

During the audience the governor was shot down and Sichinsky arrested for the crime. As he was led away he exclaimed:

"I am no criminal! I have acted in behalf of my oppressed people."

From the moment Sichinsky was thrown into a dungeon in the great Stanislaw prison, an organized campaign was started to effect his escape. Never in the records of prison escapes was there one as unusual as this.

A "Society for the Escape of Sichinsky" came into being. The progress of its work and growth of its subscription list was published in the daily newspapers and the authorities in fear of an uprising, did nothing to suppress it.

Finally, one night in 1911 Sichinsky made his escape. His cell door was thrown open and a bundle of clothes tossed in. These he donned, then crept to the great gateway, where he found two turnkeys, who had been bribed, ready to spirit him away in an automobile.

He was taken to a remote Ukrainian village, and then in various disguises made his way through Austria and Germany into Sweden. There he stayed until the war broke out, when he daringly ventured back to his own country in the role of war correspondent. Twice he was arrested, but each time released without his real identity becoming known.

Finally, warned by his friends that he was tempting fate too far, he came to America. That was eight months ago. Since then he has chafed under the thought that he entered and has been living here under an assumed name. He told friends he intended to confess and then see if this "land of the free" would shield him or send him back as a murderer to a prison or death in Austria. So a few days ago he told his story to the immigration officials—the whole story.

Now he asks: "What am I here—murderer or hero?"

NOW STANDARD OF CITY OWNERSHIP

Fort Wayne Lighting Plant Ranks Among Best in Country.

That the municipal light and power works of Fort Wayne has become of highest rank and is held to be a standard of municipal ownership and operation in the field is evidenced by the numerous inquiries received by Secretary-Manager John Wessel for information relating to the plant. Two or three such inquiries are received each week. The most recent comes from the city of Lafayette, which is now interested in the subject of municipal ownership. The fact that the Fort Wayne lighting department does not carry any indebtedness, has one of the best equipped plants in the country, has brought the commercial lighting rate down to 7 cents and has made Fort Wayne one of the best illumined cities in the United States attracts widespread attention.

BIDS FOR ORNAMENTAL LAMPS.

The board of works at its Thursday evening meeting will receive bids for the installation of an ornamental lighting system on Lincoln avenue from Broadway to Indiana avenue. Several bids are in prospect and the board expects to be able to make an award upon some one of the proposals. This will be the third ornamental lighting system to be installed within a few months on residential streets, an improvement for which there is an increasing demand.

The board will have up for confirmation Thursday evening the assessment rolls for a sewer on Lexington avenue from Calhoun street to the alley west of Harrison street, and for another sewer on Hoagland avenue from the alley north of Rudisill boulevard to the alley south of that thoroughfare.

COMPLETING STATE BOULEVARD.

Pedicating only that there should be no fall of rain before sundown, Martin J. Grace, head of the Grace Construction company, promised the board of works Thursday morning that he would complete the asphalt pavement on State boulevard by night and that it would be cleaned and ready for traffic on both sides of its entire length by night. This pavement is more than a mile long, and connects Forest park boulevard and the Lakeside system of pavements with Spy Run avenue. Contractor Grace says the asphalt portion of the Wayne Trace pavement will be completed by Saturday.

COMPLAINING OF STREET FLUSHING

A petition will be sent to the board of works by automoblie owners asking for some reforms in the matter of street flushing. The motorists will ask that the flushing of asphalt streets be deferred until 3 o'clock in the morning, complaining that the wet condition of the streets after flushing is the cause of many accidents.

WANT CLOAK FIRM DECLARED BANKRUPT

A petition has been filed in the federal court by the Reskie Kirschbaum & Company, Herman Spivek & Company and Sosna & Dinkelman, of Chicago, asking that the Jerrold Cloak & Suit Company be declared a bankrupt. The petition alleges that the Jerrold Cloak & Suit Company is indebted to the extent of $13,000, while the business is not worth more than $3,000. The creditors' claims are as follows: Reskie Kirschbaum & Company, $1,764.10; Herman Spivek & Company, $49.50, and Sosna & Dinkelman, $27. Some time ago the superior court of Allen county appointed the Citizens' Trust Company receiver for the firm.

Breen & Morris are attorneys for the plaintiff.

TOSSED TWICE BY BULL.

Youth Hits Rafters and Starts Up Again When Saved by Father.

Berwick, Pa., Oct. 28.—Tossed to the rafters of the cow stable by an angry bull, R. O. Shaffer, age twenty-six, of Zenith, narrowly escaped death before being rescued by his father.

When the bull turned on him as he was taking it to a watering trough, he landed on the bull's head, and after striking the rafters was tossed a second time. The father then seized the rope fastened to the bull's nose and snubbed the rope around a pole, when it turned on him. His son has two ribs fractured and suffers contused wounds of the body.

Cheating Father Time And Other Aids to Beauty

Not so much the big wrinkles, but the little ones are what rob the face of its youthful appearance, and it's to keep old Father Time from putting his bookmark on the complexion that interests most women. Wrinkles and crow's feet can be prevented and, if not too old and big, can be massaged away if only the proper means are employed. A skin food that will make the skin plump and vigorous and remove quickly all traces and lines of age can be made as follows: Get from your druggist about two ounces of powdered eptol; dissolve this in half a pint of hot water and add a tablespoonful of glycerine; massage this freely into the skin and you will soon notice the difference in your appearance.

A hair tonic of unusual worth—simple, too—one that will dissolve away every particle of dandruff and will stop itching scalp and falling hair, can easily be made by mixing half a pint of alcohol with half a pint of water and adding one ounce of beta-pinol. If you have any hair faults whatever, just try this and see what a few weeks' treatment will do for you.

With fashions of today demanding hairless neck, arms, armpits and other parts of the body, the removal of superfluous hairs has been quite a problem. The electric needle is probably the best means, but this is painful and quite expensive. Pastes and powders and razors only increase the growth. The only safe and sure way is to dissolve the hairs; then you kill the hair roots entirely. If you will get a small bottle (an ounce will be all you will need) of simple sulfo solution from your druggist and apply to the hairs, you will find that in a few minutes they will be dissolved away entirely, leaving the skin soft and white.—Advertisement.

AT THE MAJESTIC.

When Marie Tempest Lunched With the Leopards.

In the way of hospitality extended to her in the different American cities in which she has appeared, Miss Marie Tempest, the delightful English comedienne whom we are to see in "The Duke of Killiecrankie" and "Rosalind" at the Majestic theater, for one performance, Friday evening, Oct. 29, has experienced divers kinds and quantities. Both Miss Tempest and Mr. Browne, her leading man, on their arrival in Boston were invited, through Horace McCracken, the well-known animal agent, as spokesman, by Madame La Pompadour, seconded by Madame Rejane, to have luncheon with the latter at Franklin Park, an elaborate and popular part of Boston's splendid park system. The spokesman explained that it was impossible for these two distinguished hostesses to come down town on that day to deliver their invitations in person, as the two ladies did most of their entertaining behind the bars of their cage since they were the most beautiful leopards in the menagerie department at the park. Miss Tempest's acceptance took the form of the following note:

"Both Mr. Browne and I accept with thanks the ladies' kind invitation to luncheon on Tuesday, but we both must insist that our portion of the meal be cooked."

Miss Tempest's fear was groundless, for the two hostesses acquitted themselves beautifully. Two small tables, one within the cage and the other placed close beside it outside the bars, seated the guests and their entertainers, although it must be confessed that the quality and quantity of food differed a bit. For instance, the hostesses evinced no more interest in Miss Tempest's maccaroons or ices than Mr. Browne or the actress displayed in the raw steak and dainty carrots, sliced raw, that the hostesses devoured with a deplorable lack of attention towards their guests.

"Twin Beds" on Saturday.

Salisbury Field and Margaret Mayo, authors of "Twin Beds," the laugh festival which Selwyn and Company are sending to the Majestic theater on Saturday matinee and night after its record-breaking run of fifty-two weeks in New York, have laid the scenes of their rollicking farce in a field infinitely rich in humorous possibilities in brief, in a big apartment house in New York which is so compact that neighborliness is at once horrible to indulge and impossible to avoid. The slangy forthrightness of Signora Monti in keeping her "wop" to the "straight and narrow" and her distress at being pulled one way by her love for him, and the other by her utter exasperation, give play to some of the cleverest lines heard in a farce since "Baby Mine," also Margaret Mayo's play.

AT THE EMPRESS.

There's a mighty busy bunch of people at the Empress theater this week, preparing for the opening of the Empress stock company next week under the management of Harvey M. Porter. Scene painters and carpenters are busy preparing the scenes and sets for "Broadway Jones," which will be the opening attraction, and electricians are busy installing new lighting effects, while the members of the stock company are rehearsing daily. The initial offering of "Broadway Jones" is sure to register a great hit with Fort Wayne, because it is clean, snappy, laughable and delightful. It is the production in which George M. Cohan achieved his greatest success. Frank Jones, Fort Wayne's favorite actor, portraying comedy parts, will have the role of Jackson Broadway Jones, while winsome Miss Helen Gleason will act the role of Clara Spootswood. Miss Gleason is a charming actress. Fort Wayne theatergoers will fall in love with her. McLain Gates, who is called "Mac" by all his friends, who are all the people who see him on the stage, will play the part of Robert Wallace. Miss Shirley Moore will play the role of Josie Richards, while Harry Manners will enact the part of Peter Pembrooke.

AT THE TEMPLE.

TEMPLE PLAYERS' WARDROBES.

Fort Wayne's Favorite Stock Players Well Provided.

The extent of the wardrobe that a stock player in a company presenting as pretentious productions as the Temple theater players are staging, is required to own, is exemplified every week at the Temple. This week, for instance, Maurice Jenkins' wardrobe yielded a complete suit of Mexican dress clothes, from sombrero to flashy sash, while Miss Alma Powell, playing opposite Mr. Jenkins in the riotous farce comedy, "The Man From Mexico," located a Spanish dancer's costume that needed but very little attention from Miss Powell's deft needle to fashion it to meet the requirements of the comedy. Since the company opened here not one of the women has worn the same gown on any two weeks. These creations are ripped apart and fashioned anew every week by Miss Mary A. Durfield, wardrobe mistress of the company. Of course she is assisted in this work by the artists themselves.

Next week the Temple players will be seen in the great American play, Mary Jane's Pa, by Miss Edith Ellis.

AT KEITH PALACE

AN ADDITIONAL ACT.

Kremka Brothers, Famous Acrobats, on Palace Bill.

Prevented from appearing in the opening performance of the current Keith bill at the New Palace theater because of injuries sustained a week ago while presenting their hazardous act, the Kremka Brothers have recovered and this afternoon were one of the host of attractions on this remarkable collection of variety talent. Petite Elda Morris, with the vivacious style and the dainty feet, is singing and dancing her way into the affections of Fort Wayne's public. Robbie Gordone, the venus of vaudeville, presents a series of art reproductions that are startling, not only in their realism, but also in the speed with which she shifts from one pose to another. "Adam Killjoy" is the big sketch in which Henry Holman and company are appearing with marked success. Some of the other big Keith features are Milo, vaudeville's prime mystery; the Four Sultanas, a singing combination of rare merit; Hoey and Lee, yiddisher comedian of distinction, and the Keith films.

AT THE JEFFERSON.

Mrs. Fiske Praised in "Vanity Fair."

It is interesting to note the comments by the different newspaper critics who are now devoting a great deal of attention to the silent drama. In their criticisms of Mrs. Fiske in "Vanity Fair," the seven reel Edison masterpiece which plays today and tomorrow at the Jefferson they all seem to be of one opinion. Kitty Kelly, of the Chicago Tribune, says Mrs. Fiske has brought her perky, independent Becky to the screen. This is a treasure. Pittsburg Sun:—Mrs. Fiske is superb in her far famed role of Becky Sharp and gives a most animated interpretation of the character. Her performance is a finished piece of acting which surpasses the best of her stage work. And so they go on in their praise of this masterpiece of the Thackeray classic. While showing at advanced prices in other cities the management has generously placed "Vanity Fair" at the disposal of the local theater-goers at the usual scale. With it will be the Paramount Travels, these two features forming a two hour performance. Shows will begin at 1, 3, 5, 7 and 9 p. m. Saturday, Florence LaBadie, heroine of a thousand film successes, will appear in "The Price of Her Silence," a Mutual masterpicture.

AT THE ORPHEUM.

EMINENT ACTOR AT ORPHEUM.

Frederick Perry, the wonderful actor, who scored such a profound sensation with his acting in the great stage success, "On Trial," adds appreciably to his reputation by his brilliant work in "The Family Stain," the latest of the celebrated William Fox photoplays, and which is seen at the Orpheum theater for three days, commencing today.

"The Family Strain" is adapted in six acts from Emile Gaboriau's thrilling detective story, "The Widow Lerouge," and presents one of the most engrossing plots ever incorporated within the confines of a story. The intricacies of the story, the magnificence of the settings in the play and the superb acting of the players participating serves to make this one of the most acceptable photoplays imaginable.

Monday will see Holbrook Blinn at the Orpheum in a picturization of Owen Davis' risque sex drama, "The Family Cupboard," which created any amount of town tattle when it was given on the stage with Irene Fenwick in a principal role.

THE GRAND.

Francis X. Bushman and Beverly Bayne at the Grand Today.

"Providence and Mrs. Crimy"—This three-reel drama about an American girl who unknowingly marries a lord is put together with so much skill and so well acted by Beverly Bayne, Francis X. Bushman, Louise Crolius and Helen Dunbar, that it has all the charm of a fresh subject.

Mrs. Crimy is so anxious for her daughter Jeannette to marry a member of the nobility that she has inserted in an English newspaper that an engagement is pending between Jeannette and Lord Chilminster, notwithstanding the fact that neither has seen the other. Jeannette reads the announcement and runs away with a chauffeur who has driven up to the house of Lady Hartley, her aunt. To end her troubles quickly Jeannette suggests that the chauffeur marry her, but that she be allowed to remain a wife in name only.

BRITISH WARSHIP IS A TOTAL WRECK

London, Oct. 28.—The British cruiser Argyll has run aground and may be a total wreck. All hands were rescued. This was made known by the admiralty today in the following announcement:

"H. M. S. Argyll, Captain James Tancred R. N., grounded this morning off the east coast of Scotland. Owing to bad weather prevailing it is feared she may become a total wreck. All her officers and the crew have been saved."

The Argyll, 10,850 tons displacement, was laid down in 1902. Her normal complement is 655. She is 450 feet long. Her largest guns are 7.5 inches, of which she carries four. She has six 6-inch, two 3-inch and twenty-two 3-pound guns and two torpedo tubes.

NUMEROUS STRIKES BACI FOR BUSINESS

"Strikes and lockouts are all too numerous for the good of general business and they are injuring not only the lines in which they occur, but all other lines as well," says the monthly letter just issued by the Old National bank. "It is hard to believe that more than 100,000 employes now attempting to enforce demands for higher wages were, just a year ago, asking for work at almost any figure. If reasonable demands are met by the employers and if unreasonable demands are not made by the employes, the next few months will be a period of practically full employment."

SAYS ENGLAND'S WEALTH IS DODGING

Not Contributing Proper Share to War Taxes, Asserts Authority.

London, Oct. 20.—Correspondence of The Associated Press).—Sir Edward Clarke, the great English legal authority, is of the opinion that the accumulated wealth of the country, which he says is "amply sufficient to pay for four or five times over the estimated cost of the war," is not contributing its proper share to the war taxes.

"There is one large part of that accumulated wealth which during the lifetime of its owner pays nothing at all to the national exchequer," he writes. "I refer to the enormous sum which is represented by the stores of works of art, furniture, books, plates, china, glass and jewelry which are to be found in the houses of well-to-do people. The pleasure and comfort and the advantages in social position which man or woman derives from these is as much an annual profit as the dividends would be if they were sold and the money invested in stocks or shares.

"I suggest that the owners of property of this kind should be obliged to make a statement of its value, and where that exceeded, say £300 ($1,500), four per cent. on that sum be treated as income and added to the owner's assessment for income tax. This would ring in a very large immediate revenue, and a still greater benefit would be that we should have a registar of the property on which a levy might afterwards be made."

"Rows of small dwellings can be seen where no street number appears on door or gate, but some aristocratic or romantic name has been adopted," he says. "The smaller the house the more splendid is its title."

He would make those who put on airs in this fashion pay $6 a year for the privilege.

BULGARIANS OCCUPY SERBIAN STRONGHOLD

Again Capture Pirot, Scene of Important Battle Between Bulgarians and Serbs in 1885.

London, Oct. 28.—Bulgarian forces aiming toward Nish have occupied the strongly fortified town of Pirot, says a dispatch to the Mail from Saloniki. Pirot is 35 miles east of Nish. It was the scene of an important battle between Serbs and Bulgarians in 1885.

Since Sunday the allies' troop trains have run without interruption between Gevgeli and Veles. This section, it is said, has been entirely cleared of Bulgarians.

More Favorable to Allies.

Unofficial reports from Greek sources represent the situation in southern Serbia as somewhat more favorable to the entente allies. A dispatch from Athens which has not been confirmed, states that the Bulgarians have withdrawn from Uskup. Advices from Saloniki tell of a fierce battle along the Veles-Komanovo front, with the Bulgarians retreating. Hope is being revived in London that the Serbians will be able to reform their lines along the Monastir front.

The Germans having effected a junction with their Bulgarian allies, it is possible that the campaign will be shifted in an effort to relieve Serbia to an attempt to cut communication with Constantinople. In this connection military critics hazard the guess that the entente allies are not likely to withdraw from Saloniki, no matter what happens to Serbia.

Germans Change Direction.

Riga and Dvinsk remain the chief German objectives on the eastern front. The direction of the German assault against Riga may have changed. Fighting is reported west of the city, the main attacks against which hitherto have been directed from the southwest and southeast. Lake Babite, where minor engagements have occurred, is west of Riga, running parallel with the shore of the gulf.

On the other fronts comparative inactivity prevails.

The Saloniki correspondent of the Havas News agency says the fighting on the Franco-Bulgarian front has subsided, calm having prevailed for 24 hours.

A squadron of French aeroplanes has been assembled at Saloniki and is soon to proceed by air to the front.

BRIAND AGAIN TO BE CHIEF

Former French Premier is Asked to Form New Cabinet.

VIVANI MINISTRY RESIGNS TODAY

Paris, Oct. 28.—The Viviani ministry resigned today. Aristide Briand has been asked to form a new cabinet. It is understood that when the former premier completes his new cabinet M. Viviani will be minister of justice in it.

The cabinet in its new form will not be ready to appear before parliament this afternoon, according to the impression prevailing in political circles. Paul Deschanel, president of the chamber, will move an adjournment until tomorrow when the work of reconstruction will be complete. Information now available indicates that M. Briand will become foreign minister as well as premier, with Jules Cambon, who was ambassador to Germany at the outbreak of the war as his principal secretary. In addition to M. Viviani, probable designations are: Minister of war, Gen. J. S. Galieni, military governor of Paris; minister of marine, Rear Admiral Lucaze; minister of agriculture, Etienne Clementel, former minister of agriculture and of finance; minister of commerce, L. L. Klotz, former minister of the interior and of finance, or Joseph Thierry, under secretary in the ministry of war; minister of instruction, Emile Combes, former premier. The other members of the present cabinet, according to this program, will continue in their present positions.

Since the resignation of Theophile Delcasse, the famous statesman, as minister of foreign affairs, it had been understood there would be further changes but reports from Paris previously have not indicated that such a sweeping re-organization, involving the withdrawal of M. Viviani was to be made. M. Delcasse's resignation was said to be due to a disagreement regarding Balkan policy of France but Premier Viviani said in the chamber of deputies at the time that there was no discord in the cabinet. The French cabinet has been previously reorganized since the beginning of the war. The Viviani ministry resigned on Aug. 26 of last year and a coalition cabinet was formed, with M. Viviani remaining at its head. M. Briand has held several cabinet positions and was premier from Jan. 21 to March 18, of 1913. He is minister of justice in the present cabinet.

JAPAN IS NOT TO INVITE CHRISTIAN

Adheres to Original Intention for Coronation Ceremony.

Tokio, Oct. 2.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)—Japan has decided to adhere to her original intention not to invite a representative of the Christian religion to the coronation ceremonies of Emperor Yoshohito, to be held in Kioto early next month. Japanese Christians tried to induce the court and government to change the original plans on the ground that Christianity is now one of the prominent religions of the empire, but the authorities have decided that only a representative of the Buddhist and Shinto religions will attend the Kioto ceremonies. The explanation given is that Buddhist and Shinto priests have a court rank in Japan, which entitles them to an invitation. On the other hand, the coronation board will recognize the religions of the west by inviting their representatives to the banquets to be held Nov. 16 in various cities of the empire simultaneously with the first coronation feast proper, which will be given at Kioto by the emperor on that date. More than 100,000 people will be present at these various commemorative feasts.

The coronation board says it is very desirous of having it understood that the coming coronation will be distinctly a national affair. It points out that the expenses will be borne by the nation and that officials of the government and every class of people in the empire will be represented.

The members of the diplomatic corps will attend two of the principal coronation ceremonies and the three coronation feasts to be held at Kioto, but they will not be invited to the third great ceremony at Kioto, known as the daijosai or grand harvest thanksgiving festival. No anti-foreign consideration enters in the question, officials explained, but this being an archaic ritual service, which is purely and simply Japanese and which has been in no way influenced or changed by western civilization, it has been deemed best to invite no foreigners. This is the ceremony at which the emperor offers the sacred rice to the ancestral gods and himself partakes of the sacred food.

GIRL'S HEADLESS BODY ON TRACKS

Pittsburg, Pa., Oct. 28.—The headless body of Miss Sophia McCallin, daughter of the late Wm. C. McCallin, former mayor of Pittsburg, was found early today on the Pennsylvania railroad tracks at Roup, a passenger station in the city limits.

The body was so badly crushed that identification was impossible until this morning, when her absence from the office of E. S. Morrow, city comptroller, whose secretary she was, started an inquiry, and was established by a diamond pin bearing her name.

COLGAN LEAVES FOR HOME IN CHICAGO

He Has Been in Charge of Strike for International Organization.

J. E. Colgan, member of the general executive board of the Amalgamated Association of Street and Electric Railway Employes of America, who has been here during the strike of the street car men representing the international organization, has returned to his home in Chicago. Whether he expects to return is not known.

More cars were stoned Wednesday night, Mrs. Patterson, a janitress at the general offices of the Fort Wayne and Northern Indiana Traction company, being cut by broken glass on the Huffman street line about 5 o'clock. She was not seriously hurt. A brick was hurled through a car on the Driving park line, breaking the glass but doing no other damage.

The traction company now has over 190 men here as motormen and conductors, more than a sufficient number to man every car in service on the city lines. Many of these men have purchased new uniforms and are expecting to remain here permanently. Friday will be the third pay day for the former employes of the company at the Federation of Labor headquarters in Harmony hall on West Berry street.

No Action is Taken.

No action was taken Wednesday in the federal court at Indianapolis on the petition for an injunction filed by attorneys for the United States Mortgage and Trust company, of Philadelphia, bondholders for the Fort Wayne and Northern Indiana Traction company, to enjoin Mayor Hosey, Manager John Wessel, of the city lighting department, solicitors, local labor leaders and fifty-eight striking car men from interfering with the traction company's lighting business and operation of cars. Judge Anderson held court during the day and Wednesday evening left for Chicago, where he will be until Saturday.

List of Defendants.

The list of defendants named in the petition is as follows: W. J. Hosey, mayor; John Wessel, manager of the municipal light plant; Joseph C. Schultz, E. P. Thomas, William H. Rossington and August C. Car Hits Wagon.

G. A. Kohlinger, 612 Riverside, proprietor of a carpet cleaning and rug establishment on Wagner street, and Edward Sproats, residing on Alliger avenue, narrowly escaped serious injuries about 5 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, when the wagon on which they were riding was struck by a city car at Tennessee and Spy Run avenues. Both men were thrown to the ground, the wagon being turned completely over and badly damaged.

MAY USE EASTLAND AS TRAINING SHIP

Chicago, Oct. 28.—The steamship Eastland, which tipped over in the Chicago river Aug. 6, with a loss of 812 lives, may be used as a government naval training ship it was announced today. Captain Edward Evers, of the Illinois naval reserves said Gov. Edward F. Dunne had approved of the plan and that an investigation is now in progress to satisfy naval authorities at Washington as to the seaworthiness of the boat. Alterations are to be made in the hull to remove all danger, it was said. The ship is to be held at public auction under an order of the United States district court and unless unforeseen obstacles develop the government, it was said, will buy it and remodel it into a training ship.

POSSE IS IN PURSUIT.

Lafayette, Ind., Oct. 28.—Word was received here today from Syracuse, N. Y., that John Voelker, Chicago diamond thief, who escaped from a train at this place six weeks ago while being taken from Crownpoint to Jeffersonville penitentiary, was being pursued by a posse near Syracuse. Voelker, who was handcuffed to another prisoner, slipped the manacle over his hand and leaped from the train while in custody of Sheriff Whitaker, of Crownpoint

"I'M VERY COMFY HERE" SAYS DEAR LITTLE EVA

"And I Have No Handkerings for the Sunny South" —Benders Want In.

"President W. H. Essick, of the Grand Rapids Central league baseball club, is in receipt of word from President Harry Stahlhefer, of the Evansville club, in which the director in chief of the pennant winner this year says there is absolutely no foundation to the report to the effect tha Evansville is seeking a berth in the Southern association. He says Evansville considers the Central league the best minor league in existence and that he is very hopeful of winning another pennant next year.

"This puts at rest the numerous reports to the effect that Evansville and Terre Haute are planning on getting into other leagues. Stahlhefer also said that he understood Terre Haute is perfectly satisfied with the Central league with the exception of a few minor matters which he expects will be remedied at the meeting to be held in Evansville a week from next Sunday. It has been reported that Terre Haute was planning a flop to the Three-I league.

"The Evansville board of trade is going to give a spread a week from next Saturday night in honor of the delegates who attend the league meeting the day following.

"President Essick also is in receipt of a communication from Ed Smith in which the former Grand Rapids manager expressed a desire to secure a Central league franchise for South Bend. Essick says he is for Smith and South Bend if a vacancy occurs in the circuit."

END OF BASEBALL WAR DRAWING NEAR

Chicago, Oct. 28.—Plans are nearing consummation to terminate the baseball war by absorbing into the National league the men who hold the Federal league's bank roll.

The deal probably would have been completed already but for the sudden death of R. B. Ward, president of the Brookfeds, who generally was credited with having put more money into baseball than any other individual during the professional life of the sport.

The plans which were submitted to organized baseball representatives by Federal league promoters during the world's series, and on which leading spirits in the National and Federal leagues have been working industriously, contemplate taking into part ownership in different National league clubs Harry Sinclair, Phil Ball, Charles Weeghman, William Walker, Edward Gwinner and the heirs of the late R. B. Ward.

That would eliminate five of the Federal league clubs—Newark, Brooklyn, Pittsburg, Chicago and St. Louis—and the other three would have to be provided for by the American association and the International league. Kansas City is in A. A. territory and Baltimore and Buffalo are within the boundaries of the International. The Newark plant of the Federal league is to be retained for use on Sundays by the New York Giants.

The scheme is outlined is for Sinclair to become part owner of the Giants, Ball to purchase the Britton equity in the St. Louis Cards, Gwinner to be bought out by Dreyfuss or to be allowed to buy into the Pirates, and the Whales and Cubs to be consolidated and play on the north side grounds in this city. The Ward interests may be taken care of either in the New York or Brooklyn club, and the present Brookfed plant would become available for the International league.

The obstacles in the way of this deal are said to be President Johnson, of the American league, and Charles W. Murphy, phantom owner of the Cubs, the latter of whom is pretty generally credited with having blocked the peace negotiations which were started last winter between Messrs. Weeghman and Herrmann.

Any one who recalls the events of last fall and winter is willing to believe the consent of C. W. Murphy will be found necessary to any scheme for the amalgamation of the Cubs and Whales and their removal from the west side grounds, in which Murphy owns a half interest. This matter is said to be in the hands of National league officials at present.

Just how President Johnson, of the American league, is figured as an obstacle to the consolidation scheme of the National and Federal leagues is not disclosed, unless it is through refusal to surrender claim to players who jumped American league contracts to perform in the Federal circuit. Among the side issues is a plan to supplant Miller Huggins as manager of the St. Louis Cardinals and give the reins to Fielder Jones, manager of the St. Louis Feds. This may be opposed by Owner Comiskey, of the White Sox.

George Artzberger, wealthy shoe dealer of Pittsburg, claims to be the oldest active ball player in the world. He is 67.

During the past season he played on one of the best teams in Allegheny county. He was in 61 contests and batted .326. He plays the outfield.

In one game Artzberger made five hits, scored four runs and stole two bases. He says he can bat, run and throw a ball as well as he did twenty years ago.

Boys Whose Forebears Made World History, Star in Athletic Events.

(By Brown Holmes).

Behind the careers of three collegians attracting attention as athletes stand the records of fathers and forefathers as statesmen who played prominent parts in moulding the political history of the country.

The background of the operations of the collegians consists of chalk-marked gridirons while the background of the work of their ancestors was the white house and senate chamber.

Two of the athletes are sons of former presidents—Charley Taft, of the Yale football squad, and Grover Cleveland, Jr., Yale pole vaulter. The other is Allen G. Thurman III., grandson of Allan G. Thurman, who was known as the "Old Roman" when he was winning political honors, and son of Lee Thurman, of the department of commerce, Washington.

Of the records of the three athletes that of Thurman is the best. He startled the football world several weeks ago when his sensational kicking gave the University of Virginia eleven, a minor aggregation, a victory over Yale.

A week later he held the great Eddie Mahan even in a punting duel at Harvard stadium.

Thurman's gridiron career started at East high school, Columbus, O., where he was a kicking prodigy. Even then he punted from 60 to 70 yards. In 1913 he went to Mercersburg academy, starred at football, and repeated the next year at Princeton preparatory school.

Then Thurman entered University of Virginia, where his father before him had been captain of the baseball team. He made the eleven right off the reel. He has starred in all of Virginia's games and is rated one of the greatest kickers the gridiron has ever produced.

TO MAKE BASKETBALL MORE SAFE AND SANE

New Rule is "Play Ball and Not the Man"—A Good Move.

(By Brown Holmes).

Basketball rules, just issued, show many changes and the object of the changes, according to the joint rules committee, is not only to provide a uniform code for all games but to induce players to "play the ball and not the man."

Every effort has been made to center play about the ball and baskets and not about the players.

New rules govern blocking, holding and charging and especial attention of players and referees is called to the penalties in these departments.

It is expected the rules will take a good deal of "rough house" out of the game and make it more open for the benefit of players as well as spectators.

The rules have been adopted by the Young Men's Christian association, Amateur Athletic union and National Collegiate Athletic association, so that this year, for the first time, all games will be played under the same code. In former years there were two sets of rules and the style of game permitted under them was vastly different.

Another states that on a free trial for goal players will be allowed to enter the free throw lane as soon as the ball hits the basket or background. This is expected to mean improvement over both sets of old rules as the time for entering the lane is fixed definitely.

When the referee awards the ball to a player out of bounds, an opponent is not allowed to touch the ball and delay play long enough for his men to "cover" opponents. This is planned to do away with one of the most unsportsmanlike features of the game.

The rule book comments on the changes in the code and pays especial attention to the rules on blocking, holding and charging, the idea being to do away as much as possible with personal contact and roughness.

Golfer—My boy, do you know that head caddie

Boy—Yes, sir.

Golfer—What's the most striking thing about him, boy?

Boy—His fist!

TWO CHILDREN HAD CROUP.

The two children of J. W. Nix, merchant of Cleveland, Ga., had croup last winter. One was a boy of 6, the other a girl of 8 years. Mr. Nix writes: "Both got so choked up they could hardly breathe and couldn't talk. I gave them Foley's Honey and Tar and nothing else and it entirely cured them." This reliable medicine should be in every home for it gives immediate relief from colds, coughs and croup, heals raw, inflamed throat and loosens phlegm. Dreier Drug Co.—Advertisement.

JACK HENDRICKS MAY BE PIRATE BOSS

Rumored That Former Fort Wayne Manager Will Succeed Clarke.

Fort Wayne fans will be greatly interested in the rumor that is floating about the corriders of the big leagues to the effect that Jack Hendricks, former manager of the Fort Wayne Central leaguers, is to succeed Fred Clarke as manager of the Pittsburg Pirates. Hendricks now is manager of the Indianapolis American association team.

With the resignation of Clark the owners of the Pittsburg club began to cast about for a new leader, and picked Hans Wagner for the place. Now it looks as though Wagner isn't going to stick to the club, and at least he seems to care nothing about the managerial position.

So Jack Hendricks was picked as the most likely successor to Clarke, and it is understood that he has been in Pittsburg going over the matter with the Pirate owners.

PICTURES FIGHT FOR LIFE IN SEA DEPTHS

Board Makes Public Its Report on F-4 Disaster at Honolulu.

Washington, Oct. 28.—A graphic story of the battle for life waged in vain 300 feet beneath the surface of the sea by the twenty-one men who perished in the navy's submarine F-4 last March at Honolulu is told in the final report on the loss of the vessel, submitted by a board of inquiry, headed by Rear Admiral Bush and made public today. Examination of the wrecked hull after it had been brought to the surface and placed in dry dock convinced the board that the disaster was caused by a leak resulting from a corroded battery lining, and the failure of the boat through poor diving qualities to respond promptly to the rudder change which should have returned her to the surface.

Discarding the theory once advanced that chlorine gas brought quick relief in death to the crew, the board from signs within the rusted and battered hulk pieces out in its report a dramatic account of how the doomed men strove desperately to save themselves as their vessel sank to the bottom. Fifteen met death in the engine room, where they sought refuge at the last; six died at their posts in the flooded forward compartment.

Absolved From Blame.

"From the facts established we find that the accident resulting in disaster to the U. S. S. submarine F-4, on March 25, 1915, was not due to carelessness, negligence or inefficiency on the part of the officers or men of the vessel and that, furthermore the personnel remained at their respective stations until all effective means employed to avert the disaster impending had failed and thereafter sought refuge."

From its examination of the valves of the automatic device which was set to expel water from the vessel's ballast tanks at a depth of 100 feet as required by deparamental regulations, the board found that the accident which started the F-4 on her downward plunge had occurred before the 100 foot mark was reached.

The most effective procedure for sending the boat to the surface was promptly carried out, diving rudders were set to send her up, valves opened to empty the forward ballast tanks, and the electric motors started to drive her upward all without avail. It was then some members of the crew rushed into the engine room compartment and the door of the bulkhead was closed. Fifteen bodies were found there and from this fact and the position of valves and rubbers the board concluded that: "Some member or members of the personnel were alive and capable of action for at least a short time after the occurrence which led to the disaster."

CLEVER WOMEN

Use gasoline to dry clean everything at home and save $5 in an hour.

You will never again pay enormous prices for dry cleaning after trying this. Any woman can clean and renew the appearance of yokes, ribbons, satins, laces, silks, furs, shirtwaists, Swiss, lawn, organdie and chiffon dresses, kid gloves and shoes, neckties, children's clothes, suits, caps, woolen garments, fancy vests, draperies, rugs, in fact, any and everything that would be ruined with soap and water.

Get two ounces of solvite at any drug store and put it in two gallons of gasoline, where it quickly dissolves. Then put in the goods to be cleaned. After a little rubbing out they come looking bright and fresh as new. You will find nothing fades, shrinks or wrinkles, requiring no pressing.

You would have to pay $5 at a dry cleaning establishment for the cleaning which can be done at home as easily as laundering. Any grocer or garage will supply the gasoline and your druggist will sell you two ounces of solvite which is simply a gasoline soap, then a large dishpan or wash boiler completes your dry cleaning outfit.—Advertisement.

Makes Stubborn Coughs Vanish in a Hurry

Surprisingly Good Cough Syrup Easily and Cheaply Made at Home

If some one in your family has an obstinate cough or a bad throat or chest cold that has been hanging on and refuses to yield to treatment, get from any drug store 2½ ounces of Pinex and make it into a pint of cough syrup, and watch that cough vanish.

Pour the 2½ ounces of Pinex (50 cents worth) into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup. The total cost is about 54 cents, and gives you a full pint—a family supply—of a most effective remedy, at a saving of $2. A day's use will usually overcome a hard cough. Easily prepared in 5 minutes—full directions with Pinex. Keeps perfectly and has a pleasant taste. Children like it.

It's really remarkable how promptly and easily it loosens the dry, hoarse or tight cough and heals the inflamed membranes in a painful cough. It also stops the formation of phlegm in the throat and bronchial tubes, thus ending the persistent loose cough. A splendid remedy for bronchitis, winter coughs, bronchial asthma and whooping cough.

Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, rich in guaiacol, which is so healing to the membranes.

Avoid disappointment by asking your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex," and do not accept anything else. A guarantee of absolute satisfaction goes with this preparation or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

Pianos Of Quality

These kind of Pianos have always been associated with the name of JACOBS since this house was established in Fort Wayne thirty years ago. It is a great pleasure and satisfaction to know that we have held the confidence and esteem of the musical public so many years, and in appreciation of this allegiance the Jacobs Music House is constantly seeking higher standards of excellence in the field of Piano and Player manufacture.

It is, therefore, with a keen sense of pride that Mr. Jacobs announces his exclusive agency of an instrument that is the "last word" in artistic effort of piano production, the world famed and also the exclusive agency for

Steinway Pianos

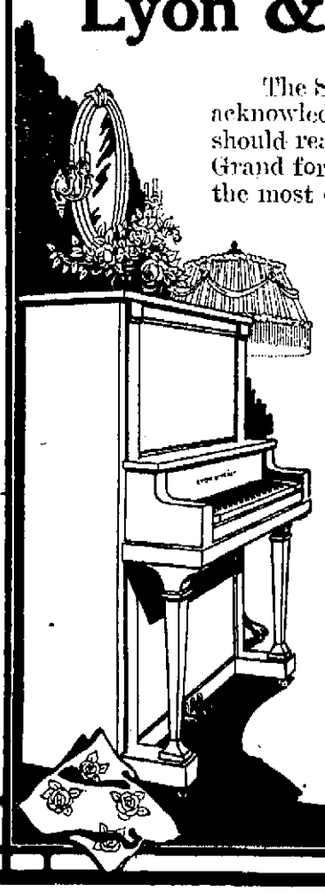
Lyon & Healy Pianos and Players



The Steinway Piano is the most sought in America today. It is freely acknowledged everywhere to be the world's standard and all musical people should realize that when they buy a Steinway Upright for $500 or a Steinway Grand for $750, (except as to size or case details), they bring into their homes the most exquisite example of piano production.

The introduction of the Steinway and Lyon & Healy lines in no way depreciates the high character of the other instruments that have for so long upheld the JACOBS name and which have done so much to popularize the JACOBS MUSIC HOUSE in Fort Wayne and all northern Indiana. In our ware rooms and private exhibition parlors are to be found all of the other famous lines that we have carried so many years, among them the following:

Kranich & Bach — A. B. Chase — Henry F. Miller
Krakauer — Shoninger — And Others

We ask you to come in and make yourself at home in our store. We shall make your visit a pleasant one. From this time until Christmas we will have at all times the largest showing of high and medium grade pianos and players to be found in any city of this size in the country.

OUR TERMS Are Easy If You Wish to Avail Yourselves of Them.

As heretofore we respectfully ask the patronage of the discerning public.

BEWARE THE RUSTY NAIL

Another Victim.

SOME of the most painful and serious accidents befall us when we least expecting them. It is a common thing to step on a rusty nail and cause all kinds of trouble.

S. M. Holtzman, employed with the Standard Oil company, Fort Wayne, had the misfortune a short time ago to step on a sharp-pointed nail which punctured his foot and caused him to "lay up" several days for repairs. Fortunately Mr. Holtzman carries a policy in the Fort Wayne Mercantile Accident association, and he received $45 as a reward for his preparedness.

Another victim of the treacherous rusty nail is A. C. Foerster, of Batesville, Ind., who stepped on an uninviting specimen while walking on a board sidewalk. He, too, carries a policy in the Mercantile, of Fort Wayne, and the company took care of his loss.

The association is receiving an immense number of new members this fall. Many are Fort Wayne people who have just appeared to waken to the splendid protection offered by the home institution. The association office is located in the People's Trust building, where the secretary, L. H. Ransom, will be pleased to explain the association's policy to any who call. Phone 2494.

FREIGHT TRAFFIC IS VERY HEAVY

Some Roads Are Being Operated to Capacity of Motive Power.

All of the freight engines the Wabash had in "white lead" are now in service, the last to leave this city being 2042 and 2022, latest and heaviest patterns on the road. Traffic over the line is simply immense and as the weather is most favorable for it, the big business is being handled at a minimum cost. Other roads are also enjoying a big business. On the G. R. & I. all of the power is in service, handling a business which comes very near being a record breaker for the time of year. On this road coal shipments which formerly started in August, did not get well under way this year until the latter part of September and at present they are the heaviest in the history of the line. Structural iron and grain shipments are also heavy, while the sugar beet business is the heaviest in the history of the Decatur sugar plant. The Pennsylvania and the Nickel Plate are also doing a good business, though on these lines traffic is no heavier than usual at this season of the year.

LOGANSPORT FEELS HONORED.

The election of Edward F. Kearney president of the re-organized Wabash company, is cause for rejoicing at Logansport, Ind., where Mr. Kearney began his railway career in the capacity of a messenger in the offices of the company. He remained in Logansport until he became trainmaster of the Chicago division of the Panhandle, going thence to a higher position with another company. Under the caption of "Kearney on the Job," the Logansport Pharos-Reporter last Tuesday said:

"Edward F. Kearney is now the official head of the great Wabash railroad system and the whole country is looking for a common sense administration of that great property that will put the Wabash to the front as one of the best managed pieces of railroad property in the United States. President Kearney will cut much of the red tape that has hampered the growth and natural development of that road and will remove it from the atmosphere of a "gamble" that has surrounded the Wabash to a more or less degree from the time of the elder Gould. Logansport people will watch the progress of events on the Wabash with the intense interest with which a father watches the enterprises of a favorite son. The new Wabash corporation is capitalized at $143,460,000. King Solomon once said "Seest thou a man diligent in business! He shall stand before kings, he shall not stand before mean men." Kearney was "diligent in business."

The callers—Meehan, 150, 145 and 154; Tierney, 158, 146 and 143; Miller, 148, 146 and 139; Quinn, 221, 150 and 180; McLellan, 163, 140 and 195. Total, 2,355.

EDUCATION FINDS NEW CONTINENTS

Indianapolis, Oct. 28.—"New Continents" was the title chosen by Prof. Herbert L. Willett, of the University of Chicago, for his address here today before the Indiana state teachers' convention. Dr. Willett applied the metaphor of discovery and exploration to educational questions, saying in part:

"Humanity has always been busy at the task of finding the unexplored. The discovery and colonization of America released a new set of human interests, the quest for scientific mastery of nature, the conquest of matter by mind, the development of inventive genius, and the growth of educational science. It would seem that the American ideal is material success. More slowly have come to expression the elements of ethical and religious concern.

"Perhaps these higher factors in the life of the race are yet to find their due expression in that dim and uncharted Asia from which most of the spiritual teachers have come, and which has shown itself as yet unaroused by the occidental passions of commerce and convenience, in which we are too content to find the secrets of civilization and progress.

"These advancing continents of colonization and human interest are further interesting as illustrative of the expanding life of the individual. Man is like the planet on which he resides, and the maps he makes of its surface are like the convolutions of his own brain. And he is as old as the oldest of the continents. The oldest thing in the world is a new-born child. That child is at the dawn of history. He has the entire process to repeat. He is at best an animal with the promise of human experience. His is the continent of physical life and strength.

"Food and clothing, prevention of disease, defense against neglect by parents or society, the meaning and value of fresh air, bathing, the care of eyes, teeth and muscles, the discipline of the body in exercise, restraint, mastery, skill are the new applications of education to the individual.

"But these things are not the supreme possessions. There is still another continent ahead. Moral ideals wait to be appraised and won. Honor, truthfulness, manners, virtue, freedom, power belong to this broader realm. And religion is there, the knowledge of God, the hatred of sin, the interpretation of suffering, and the sense of eternity are all there. And no life is complete, no education sufficient, that does not give them place and room.

DISEASES OF WOMEN AND OSTEOPATHY

(State Educational Bureau.)

As far back as history carries us we find mentioned certain diseases peculiar to women.

Instruments have been found, such as sounds and various forms of specula, which indicate that uterine diseases were recognized and that attempts were made to correct them.

Within the last decade the treatment of diseases of women has developed into a science distinctly surgical, when viewed from the standpoint of the abdominal surgeon or so-called specialist. All chronic conditions are looked upon as surgical and such operations as curettage, ovariotomy or some form of Laparotomy is performed for the most trivial ailments, while in some the operation is performed as an experiment or for the purpose of diagnosis. "A Woman Was Not Made to Be Maimed by Useless Surgical Experiments."

The Basic Principle of osteopathy in general is, that a perfectly adjusted body is necessary to health; and that a perfect adjustment of the parts concerned in the formation of the female reproductive organs is necessary to their perfect functioning; this perfect adjustment means health.

These theories have been put into practice by osteopathic physicians and proven beyond successful contradiction.

The osteopathic idea depends on proper adjustment of both the internal organs of generation and the bony framework in which they are located. Any displacement of either, and especially the latter, tends to interfere with the normal nerve and blood force. Pure blood is moving blood and it cannot be pure and be stagnant at the same time. If the blood circulates properly, Health Must Ensue.

This new feature in the treatment of diseases of women stands today as most advanced, most effective, with more remarkable results to date, and with greater possibilities from further investigation and use, than all other therapeutic measures known. It frequently occurs, on first discovery of some rapid aggressive developments of ovarian congestion or abscess, immediate operation seems inevitable and the condition of the patient so grave as to give apprehension as to the result. At this period of such attacks, osteopathic treatment has been given. When properly applied it acts as a specific, and immediate relief in a majority of cases, surgical intervention being unnecessary.

AN OLD RECIPE TO DARKEN HAIR

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray; also ends dandruff, itching scalp and stops falling hair. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is mussy and troublesome.

Nowadays we simply ask at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You will get a large bottle for about 50 cents. Everybody uses this old, famous recipe, because no one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy and you look years younger.—Advertisement.

CHICAGO GRAIN AND PROVISIONS.

Chicago, Oct. 28.—Reports of the resignation of the French premier had a bearish effect today on wheat. Opening prices, which varied from unchanged figures to ¼@⅝c down, were followed by a material setback all around.

The close was firm, ⅝@¾c net higher.

Enlarged rural offerings weakened the corn market. After opening ⅜c to ⅝c lower, the market underwent a moderate additional sag.

Oats eased off with other grain.

Provisions declined after a little show of firmness at the start.

NORTH AMERICAN BUILDING

THE DAY ON WALL STREET.

New York, Oct. 28.—Further liquidation of specialties featured today's early dealings, with declines of one to over three points in Baldwin Locomotive, Studebaker Maxwell motors common and second preferred and Lackawanna Steel. There was increased pressure against U. S. Steel on an initiative of 2,500 shares at 84⅛ to 84½, against yesterday's close of 84⅞. American Woolen rose three to 58 on announcement of another large war contract, and Coppers made further improvement, Anaconda advancing 1½ to the new record of 79⅝. Canadian Pacific was the foremost rail, rising 1¼ to 175.

The collapse of the French cabinet gave fresh point to peace rumors and was made the occasion of a vigorous bear drive, together with liquidation. Studebaker dropped 11½ to 168, Bethlehem Steel preferred ten to 170, and Baldwin 7¼ to 125. Other specialties were lower by two to five points. Steel was again singled out for attack, yielding to 83⅝ in the face of heavy selling. Rails were moderately lower at first but showed marked heaviness later. Bonds were steady.

Lowest prices were made in the last hour, some specialties showing acute weakness, but the railroads developed all around strength. The closing was irregular.

WEATHER CONDITIONS.

The pressure continues low along the northern border, with a low center over Lake Superior and another over Alberta. It is also low in southern Florida. An area of high pressure overlies the middle Atlantic states, and another of greater intensity covers the plateau region. This distribution of pressure has given temperatures higher than the seasonal average over the greater portion of the country. During the last twenty-four hours temperatures have risen in the Mississippi valley and in the western and central portions of the lake region. The weather is cooler in the Atlantic coast states, and locally in the Dakotas and Wyoming. The rainfall of the last twenty-four hours was unimportant.

DAN LUNG FINED ON A GAMBLING CHARGE

After a hearing in two installments, one of them early in the week, the gambling charges brought by William Ormsby against Fred Rosselot, jr., Daniel Lung and Charles Dull were brought to a conclusion in the city court Thursday morning. On a charge of gambling Lung was fined $20 and costs, Rosselot was found not guilty of keeping a gambling house and Dull was given an indefinite continuance on a similar charge. Ormsby had complained to the police that he was beaten out of $8 in a pool game by Lung in the poolroom attached to the Rosselot saloon on Barr street. Lung admitted playing pool with Ormsby, but denied that any money was staked on the games. Rosselot stated that he had nothing to do with the poolroom, it being in charge of Lung. Dull is employed by Lung in the poolroom.

Carmody Had a Weapon.

Jim Carmody, who has been many times arrested by the police and fined in the city court on various charges and who is regarded as an all-round bad character, was arraigned Thursday morning on a charge of carrying concealed weapons. He was arrested about daylight by Patrolman Charles Eisenhut, who found a loaded revolver of small caliber on Carmody. Officer Eisenhut was informed Wednesday night that Carmody was drunk and armed, but failed to find him. Knowing the man's habits he watched for him at daylight and picked James off when he emerged from his bunk to get his morning's morning. The case was continued until Friday and Carmody went to jail for want of $100 bond.

Was Motoring While Drunk.

John Jones was the name given by a motorist who was arrested Wednesday evening by Night Station Master Fred Fry for driving an automobile while drunk. He pleaded guilty by his attorney and was fined $50 and costs, which was paid. Jones drove his car crashing into the rear of George Bailhe's car at the Bailhe residence, 912 Lake avenue, and caused considerable damage. He said he did not see the Bailhe car because there were no lights on it. Jones was unmistakably drunk and fragments of beer bottles about the wreckage indicated that he had a cargo of refreshments aboard when the collision took place.

Other City Court Cases.

Marion Ashley, charged with drunkenness, was continued until November 6 and sent to jail in default of $100 bond. He appeared at the police station Wednesday night very drunk and on the verge of tremens and asked to be locked up for his own protection. He came here from Toledo.

Ed Wilson, a drunk, was turned loose, as were Frank Reed and Frank Howard, two vags.

CORNER HAS BECOME "HOODOO" FOR AUTOS

Events that have transpired at Washington and Harrison streets the past three evenings have brought people to believe that this street corner has become a "hoodoo" for automobiles and unless drivers use the greatest precautions at this place it seems probable that a serious accident may occur.

Monday evening about 11 o'clock a Ford touring car driven by a lady, skidded around the corner, jumped the curbing on the west side of Harrison, and was abandoned because a front wheel had been broken.

Tuesday evening a large Overland auto fared a similar misfortune, this time a rear wheel being broken. Wednesday evening another large five-passenger touring car broke a rear axle when the machine skidded around the corner and struck the curbing.

All three accidents occurred between 10 and 11:30 o'clock, shortly after the street flusher had passed over the streets.

Early Thursday two large seven-passenger touring cars suffered the same fate at the same crossing.

INTO THE RACING RIVER, HANDS CHAINED TO LOGS!!
No. 1—Ever been in the lumber camps of the north woods? An interesting spot! Once I had a contract to deliver a shipment of logs.
No. 2—Being weary, I lay down to nap when some dishonest lumbermen, who wanted my logs, handcuffed me to two of them!
No. 3—In this manner, fastened by the wrists to the logs, I was dumped into the river! However, with my usual quick decision, I made a mighty swing with my arms!
No. 4—The chains broke and the logs struck the piers square in the middle, knocking them senseless! I then filed off the handcuffs and proceeded with my lumber.
